that Is the Question Now Asked About President Cleveland.

LEAVES WITHOUT REGISTERING

And Cannot Qualify Now Unless He Makes a Special Trip Back.

MARKED CONTRAST TO HILL

Who Always Stands by the Nominees of the Party, and Works for Them Early and Late-Stevenson on Hand.

New York, October 26 .- (Special.)-President Teveland will dodge the vote in the New York election.

He was so closely engaged in conversation with Miss Benedict the other day that he did not have time to answer a question as to what he would do in the state election. so exclusively was his time taken up by the mugwump soreheads while here that he forgot to register. Therefore he is not qualed to vote in the election.

As it is hardly likely that he will make a special trip back from Washington for this purpose, President Cleveland might as well written down now as a dodger.

This indifference to the success of his party is but another evidence of what has long been charged against the president. Ever-Wheeler, the mugwump candidate, states positively that the president will not or Hill; that if he votes at all it will be for himself. The only answer Mr. Cleveland makes to this is his neglect to register.

Chairman Thatcher, who went off halfpocked the other day in declaring that Mr. Cleveland would do the right thing at the right time, has decided to put his tongue n mourning. He was only speaking against pe. While Mr. Cleveland was here he was not at home to a single democratio

All of this is in marked contrast to the nduct of Mr. Hill in 1892. He worked for his party in season and out of season. He is a democrat and stands by the nominees As to what Mr. Cleveland does in this respect the record shows. He did not have time to register!

Waiting for That Letter. Talk of a possible letter from President leveland was unexpectedly revived this ernoon when it became known at the state headquarters that the leader in the Wheeler movement had said that he excted that Mr. Cleveland would still come out in favor of Hill. Word to similar effect was also received from other sources, cluding an official from state headquar-

One gentleman, who is known as an ardent administration man, intimated that Mr. Cleveland would write no direct letter bearing on the state issue, but that he might declare himself in a ringing letter to Senator Faulkner, or to the Hon. William F. Harrity on the congressional situation throughout the United States, in which he would make special allusion to thority said that if Mr. Cleveland did write letter on the congressional situation taking his action in the past as a crierion, it would not appear before the last few days of the campaign. It was recalled that in 1885 Mr. Cleveland did not come to the front until the last moment. Some think from Senator Hill's apparenty supreme indifference to the matter that he has already received some hint as to the course Mr. Cleveland will pursue. "One thing," continued the speaker, "is certain. Mr. Cleveland is not opposed to the state ticket. That is evident from the course the administration men are adopting." Washington, October 26 .- No authoritative nformation can be obtained here respecting the direct question as to the president's surpose to write or not to write a letter ancing his desire that all democrats should earnestly support the democratic state ticket in New York. Nevertheless it s the opinion of many of his friends that he will not in any way interfere in the New York campaign. With reference to the president's registering or voting one of his osest friends made the statement today hat Mr. Cleveland had no legal residence New York and could not lawfully regiser or vote there. Mr. Cleveland himself, is understood, has said that his legal esidence was in Washington. It can be stated further that at the expiration of Mr. Cleveland's presidential term he will not again take up his residence in New York. This statement was made by him some months ago, and at that time he had

Y., October 26.—Senator Daclock this evening and was met at the station by over a thousand persons who station by over a thousand persons who gave him an enthusiastic welcome. The senator was accompanied by James Lindsay Gordon, of New York city, formerly of Virginia, and Colonel John S. McEwan. Hon. Samuel A. Beardsley and Agricultural Commissioner Schraub accompanied the party as far as Utica. On arriving there the train regarding for a few minutes. A party as far as Utica. On arriving there the train remained for a few minutes. A crowd of several hundred persons surrounded Senator Hill's car and there were cries for Hill. "I am pleased to be able to say to you that since my visit here last week the cause of democracy has been steadily gaining ground. Be not deceived by the confident spirit assumed by our adversaries. We are going to win. The people are not with the republican party; they are with us. Let them bring on Harrison, McKinley and Reed. We have no objection, but we soary to observe that the republican party has not within its ranks in this state spectra who can defend her principles and answ, democratic arguments. I have only to say democratic arguments. I have only to so this all. She has also been the one tate which as always stood for democrative, new yor, will be true to her record the fall in this respect I can assure you."

I remarks were secured with prolonged for Hill's car arrived at Syracuse at 4:73 o'clock. At the station another crowd greeted him and a large number of people boarded his car and grasped the senator's hand. The senator spoke but a few words from the car platform to the waiting crowd and then introduced Mr. Gordon, who spoke for a few minutes.

At 5 o'clock Senator Will and Committee of the senator spoke for a few minutes. At 5 o'clock Senator Hill left for Oswego

Along the road to Oswego crowds greet-ed Senator Hill at Phoenix and Fulton. On arriving here he was driven to the residence of Theodore Irwin, where he was enter-

Yesterday's Registration. This was the third day for registering for the coming election. In the three cays 260,139 voters registered. In 1882 the regis-try books showed a total for three days of 207,732.

Meeting in Cooper Union. New York, October 26.—The New York state democracy held a ratification meeting in Cooper union tonight. The organization supports Hill, Lockwood and Brown in the state and the committee of seventy's ticket, headed by Colonel Strong, in the city. Fully 2,500 persons were present and much enthusiasm prevailed. Speeches were made by William R. Grace, George Walton Green and others.

Senator Hill sent a letter of regret, in which he said: "I am glad that the democrats represented by the organization in whose behalf your invitation is extended, realize the importance of the present campaign and propose to loyally support the democratic state ticket nominated at Saratoga.

"The election in this state involves the supremacy of the democratic party; it involves the approval or disapproval of the federal administration; its result will largely affect the great is ue of tariff re-form; its effect will largely shape the deslargely affect the great form; its effect will largely shape the destroy of our party in the future.

"Expressing my appreciation of the sup-port of the democrats of all factions, re-gardless of local or past differences, and with my best wishes for the success of democracy everywhere, I remain your fel-low citizen, DAVID BENNETT HILL"

All Quiet at Headquarters.

York, October 26.—David B. Hill left the Park Avenue hotel this morning at 9:30 o'clock and was driven to the Grand Central depot, where he took a train for Oswego, where he is to speak tonight. Senator Hill was accompanied by his secretary, Colonel McEwan, and David S. Griffin, of Watertown.

The absence of Senator Hill was probably responsible for the extreme quiet which prevailed at state headquarters this morning None of the campaign managers, with the exception of John Boyd Thatcher, was at his post. The fact that President Cleveland left town yesterday without saying a single word for the state ticket did not arouse the spirits of the campaign managers. They now entertain but faint hopes that Mr. Cleveland will endorse Hill or that he will even come back to the city to register and vote for him.

Senator Hill himself refused to say a word for publication this morning. It is so quiet that people around state headquarters are disappointed.

Stevenson to Help Hill.

There is one thing, however, that campaign managers will talk about, and that is the attitude of Vice President Stevenson, who upon his arrival in the city yesterday warmly endersed Senator Hill and who is here for the purpose of helping him.

It was announced this morning at headquarters that Governor Flower is going to follow the example of Major McKinley He has agreed to make a tour of the state for Senator Hill. He will hire a special train and deliver addresses at different stations he passes, from the rear of the car, Governor Flower will in this way make a dozen or more campaign speeches. Among the places at which he will speak are Albany, Schenectady and Utica and a number of smaller towns. He will start Monday or Tuesday.

COLLAPSE OF SANDSTONE Kills One Man and Entombs Alive

Several Others.

Iron Mountain, Mich., October 26.—One man was instantly killed and eleven others were entombed alive in the Pewdivac mine yesterday. The accident was due to the of the sandstone which roofed the room on the fourth level, where the men were at work. All the men that can find to work have been making herculean efforts to rescue the entombed miners. So of them are still alive, perhaps all, as they have communicated with their rescuers by tappings with hammers on the stone bar-ricade that cuts them off from freedom. They will probably be reached tonight. The work is one of extreme difficulty and dan-

REINTERRED AT OXFORD.

The Remains of the Late Justice Lamar Placed in St. Peter's Cemetery. Oxford, Miss., October 26.—The remains of the late Justice L. Q. C. Lamar were interred in the St. Peter's cemetery here The funeral was the largest ever seen in Oxford. Friends came from vari ous places in this and other states to be present at the services. The town was present at the services. The town was draped and all places of business closed. The public schools and female college pupils marched in the procession in bodies. The procession was a mile in length and about 2,000 people were present. The services were rendered by Rer. J. E. Homas, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. There were a number of prominent mer here. Colonel Lamar was sixty-seven years old when he died.

His Name Is Morgan.

Neeleyville, Mo., October 26.-Chief of Police Flanagan, of this city, suspected when he read of the capture of Morganfield, one of the Virginia train robbers, that he was really Charles A. Morgan, who had made his home here with his young wife for made his home here with his young wife for the last two years. The chief's suspicions were confirmed by the receipt of a photograph of Morganfield, showing that he and Morgan were one and the same person. The train robber was in the habit of leaving his home for a month or two at a time. He departed the last time nearly two months ago and not even his wife knew of his whereabouts.

A New Whisky Trust. New York, October 26.—Papers were filed in the secretary of state's office at Trenton today which indicate the formation of a new whisky trust. The papers comprise the articles of incorporation of a concern to be known as the Great White Spirit Company, with a paid-up car'tal of $5,000,-000 to $7,000,000, the total authorized capital 000 to $7,000,000, the total authorised capital being limited by the charter to $50,000,000. The principal office and place of business of the company outside of the state of New Jersey will be Boston, Mass., but it will carry on business in various other states and territories of the United States.

Gold Reserve Increasing. Washington, October 26.—The cash balance in the treasury at the close of business today was $112,711,431; gold reserve, $501,140,533. The increase in the gold reserve today was about $500,000 and during the last three days $1,624,004. Today's increase and the temperature of gold by crease was due to purchases of gold by

THREE MURDERS

Result from a Desperate Conflict Among Regulators.

THE WHITE CAPS TAKE CHARGE And Are Met by an Organization of "Blue Bills." ROUGH TIMES IN SEVIER COUNTY

Where Outlawry Seems to Have Estab lished Itself, to the Disgust of the Law ! Abiding Portion of the Community.

Whitecapism and outlawry are rampant in Sevier county, a county that adjoins this, and as a result the bodies of three citizens were found lying dead on a bluff near Henderson Springs yesterday morning Their names are Laban Latham, Life Helton and another by the name of Kibble. Excitement is at fever heat and a mos deplorable condition of affairs seems to exist. The following particulars were given by one of the most reputable citizens of Sevierville: The Culmination of a Tragedy. Thursday it was learned that a band of white caps had determined to visit the house of a disreputable woman back of bluff on Pigeon river, about half a mile from Henderson Springs, and administer severe whipping to the occupants of the evidence yesterday morning shows that the two opposing orders met and had fight.

The continued outrages of this organization has resulted in the recent organization of an anti-white cap secret order, whose members call themselves "Blue Bills." The latter heard of the proposed whipping expedition of the white caps near Henderson Springs and a crowd of them armed themselves and went out to see that the whipping was not done.

Latham and Kibble are of the white caps and Helton is a "Blue Bill." It is known that the two parties met on the top of the bluff between 8 and 9 o'clock Thursday night and heavy firing was opened. Wheth er the Blue Bills laid in ambush and opened ire, or whether they were ambushed by the white caps seems to be a moote uestion. Nor can it be definitely ascertained, as communication is difficult, how many were on each side, but it is sup-posed that there were ten or twelve on a side. The people of that vicinity are terrorized, and so much so that they will not ome up and volunteer information, and thus assist in bringing about speedy justice to the offenders of law and order

Bloodhounds Brought In. Sheriff Maples recently imported a couple of fine bloodbounds, but he was afraid to turn them on the trail for the reason that there are so many of both parties would be only too glad to shoot the

The sheriff took these dogs through Knoxville a couple of weeks ago and they were admired by several people here. He sent a request to The Journal to say nothing about them, as he wanted to us he had them. However, it was soon known throughout the mountains that he had the hounds, and no doubt the white caps have sworn to shoot the dogs on sight, "for the

The Previous History of the County Ever since the war Sevier county has had more or less experience with white caps. Prior to about three years ago, so says an old Sevier county citizen, they had be-come quieted down so long that the reputable citizens of the county felt they were rid of them. About three years ago The white cap business was revived for the purpose of ridding certain localities of disreputable women. These women had taken up their abode in the mountains and various parts of the county and their homes were the scenes of brawls and fights and often murder, and were veritable traps of the devil to ruin young men. The officers of the county arrested numbers of then and they were brought into court, where they were tried and fined and their friends would promptly step up and pay the fines and the women would promptly take up abodes again The decent people became incensed, and finding the power of the court was limited. some of them decided on holding a few whipping bees and see what effect that yould have. These were not white caps nor any secret order, further than to set few examples with the hope that the rest would take a hint. However, they were called white caps and their conduct seemed to give license to unprincipled char acters to organize also. Soon the law and order element became superseded by the worst gang of devils that ever infested part of the state, and their devilment was visited upon those who had anything to do with trying to drive out these bac women. As one man up that way said, within the past three years nearly every good barn in the county had been burned to say nothing of the heavy losses by the burning of their contents. They became so bold at one time that barns were set or fire in broad daylight, and an instance cited where one of these women was caught etting fire to a barn stowed full of baled

Thus the righteous but unlawful conduct of good citizens in time became a curse to the county and this triple murder is one of the fruits thereof. It is barely pos sible that other lives have been lost in this battle in the dark. The Constitution's nformant was on the scene of the fight

Parties who heard the shooting say that there was enough of it to have wiped out regiment had it been properly applied Of course more trouble is anticipated, for a strong feeling is being aroused to wipe utlawry from the county if all decent people have to take up arms to do it.

wounded seriously or otherwise.

Hartford, Conn., October 26.-J. Allen ford, since 1856, is a defaulter for about $23,000. Francis has confessed and is now in jail. He makes no explanation of his use of the stolen funds. The American Surety Company is on his bond for $10,000, and he has turned over a few thousand dollars, so that the bank will not lose over $10,000. It has a capital of $440,000, and its net surplus, after deducting the entire de falcation, amounts to $138,000.

Suicide of a Cigarette Smoker. Columbia, S. C., October 26.—(Special.)—
On last Wednesday the fourteen-year-old son of Trial Justice Hammett, of Blacknelle, S. C., committed suicide. He was addicted to the cigarette habit and his father, in the effort to break him of it, gave him a sound thrashing. The boy went to school as usual, but got excused by his teacher and bought a rope at a neighboring store. A few hours later his body was found hanging to a tree in the woods.

SHE KILLED HIM. Duel Between a Young Lady and Young Man in Oklahoma.

Perry, O. T., October 26.—A terrible dual was fought between Miss Agnes Jones, a young lady about twenty-one years of age, and Sam Bartell, thirty-five years old, on a homestead twenty miles north of here yesterday. Miss Jones obtained the home-stead when the Cherokee strip was opened in September, 1893, and had built a new home. Two months ago she went to visit her parents in Kansas and Sam Bartell jumped the claim and moved his effects into Miss Jones's home. Miss Jones returned yesterday and found her home occupied. She gave or-ders for it to be vacated at once, which Bartell refused to do, and she pulled a re-volver from under her apron and opened fire on Bartell. Bartell returned the fire but missed the woman. Three of her shots took effect in Bartell's body from the ef-fects of which he will die.

THEATRICAL MANAGER ARRESTED Paul Albert, of Chattanooga, Posted

Chattanooga, Tenn., October 26.—Paul Albert, of the Chattanooga opera house, one of the best known theatrical managers in the south, was arrested today charged with "publicly displaying indecent pic-tures." The police had prohibited the dis-play on the bill boards of the lithograph of a giri in blue tights, brought here by Hoyt's "Black Sheep" company. He per-sisted and the arrest followed. The trial is set for Monday. Manager Albert today sued The Evening Press for $5,000 damager for libel in publishing articles injurious the business of the theater.

A Defaulting Postmaster Caught. Columbia, S. C., October 26.-(Special.)-Postoffice Inspector Peer this evening arrested Jackson Counts, ex-postmaster a Peaks, near this city, on a charge of appropriating $1,200 worth of stamps, envelopes, etc. Counts lost his position re-cently on account of some smaller delinquencies. He was taken before Co sloner Bettler tonight and placed in jail in default of a $5,000 bond.

NO GREAT IMPROVEMENT Reported in Business-Reviews Bradstreet's and Dun & Co.

New York, October 26 .- Bradstreet's today will say:
"Merchants interviewed in various por tions of the country report in some instances the condition of business as not having realized anticipations, and at other points that the recent bright outlook for trade is modified. Such advices are based in part on the practical conclusion of the fall trade and always on the demand for holiday goods. Dealers in dry goods, clothing, groceries, shoes, hats and a few other lines have had relatively the more satis-factory volume of business, although in many instances fault has been found with the totals shipped. trade continues checked throughout some portions of the regions supplied by Kansas City, St. Paul, Omaha, Minneapelis and St. Louis, due to unseasonable warm weather. At the south low prices for cotton continue to affect business unfavorably, many larger merchants being more cautious as to granting credits to in terior merchants. Throughout a large potion of the region between Ohio and the northwest interior jobbers will continue to carry small stocks throughout the winter Eastern dry goods jobbers report only low cost goods moving with any fre the outlook for a settlement of the Fal

"Among southern cities Charleston, Chattanooga and Savannah say trade is less encouraging, while at Memphis, Augusta Birmingham and Jacksonville no new tures have been developed within the week Sales, however, have improved in some lines at Atlanta. At New Orleans the volume of sales have improved very slightly, the lower price of cotton, sharp revision of credits and hand-to-mouth purchases being specified as causes.

"Total bank clearings throughout the United States for six business days, ending with Thursday, this week, amount $912,000,000, against $950,000,000 last week a decrease of about 3.5 per cent as compared with $919,000,000 in the corresponding week last year, a loss of about one-third of 1 per cent. But when compared with the tota for the like week in October, 1892, the c crease is seen to be $258,000 or 22 per cent. Dun & Co's, Review. R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, which issues tomorrow, will say:
"Engrossing political excitement in many of the states causes a natural slackening in some kinds of business. But, on the whole, business indications are rather more favorable than they were last week. Gold exports have ceased, while a number of mills have gone into operation, and the mand for products, if not equal to that of prosperous years, is better than it has been most of the time this year. The price of farm products do not improve much and there are still some strikes to resis reduction of wages, so that the purchasing power of the people cannot have materially ncreased, but there is a more hopeful spir which prompts greater activity. On the other, hand, the record of past transactivity. tions are somewhat less favorable of late It is interesting that, in spite of the low price of the principal southern crop, man-ufacturers and wholesale dealers reporther more improvement in trade with the

"In iron and steel the west shows weak ness, while eastern markets show more en-couragement. Nothing of consequence is doing in rails, the deliveries for the year to October 1st being only 510,000 tons, m to October 1st being only anyw tons, much below ordinary requirements for renewals. In structural works some moderate con-tracts are reported, but bar iron is ex-tremely dull, and it is stated that the low prices reported last week-95 cents for iron and $1 for steel—have been shaded in some transactions. There is a decline in wire nails $1.99 being quoted for galvanized barbed and $22.50 for wire rods. The best feature is that the heavy increase in the output of pig does not yet seem to overload the market and there are rather less signs of pressure to sell them of late."

CAPRIVI IS OUT.

The German Chancellor and One of the Ministers Resign.

THE EMPEROR POSTPONES A HUNT

Because He Has the Formation of a New Cabinet on Hand.

HIS SELECTION OF A NEW CHANCELLOR

Was the Governor of Alsace-Lorraine but Hobenlohe Did Not Want the Place-Foreign News Generally.

Berlin, October 26.-The report that Chancellor von Caprivi has handed his resigna tion to the emperor is confirmed. Count Botho Zu Eulenburg, president of the ministerial council, has also resigned. Dr. Miquel, Prussian finance minister, has been appointed president of the council and Prince von Hohenlohe-Shillingsfurst, governor of Alsace-Lorraine, has been offered the chancellorship. Before offering the chancellorship to Prince Hohenlohe, Emperor William consulted with the envoys from Bavaria, Wurtemburg, Saxony and Baden. It is reported that Prince Hohenlohe declined the office, owing to his age.

The emperor has smmoned General Count Walderse, the political soldier who was conspicuous in the final intrigues against Bismarck. The general inference is that he intends to make him Caprivi's successor. Should Walderse become chancellor, the office of Prussian premier probably would be given him shortly, and thus the division of the two posts, which was effected at the time of the school bill crisis, would be ended.

There is a rumor that General Bronzar von Chellendorff is a candidate for the Prussian premiership and the chancellorship. Either of these generals would be acceptable to the conservatives, who have become totally estranged from the government under the Caprivi regime. Why He Resigned.

The immediate cause of Chancellor von Caprivi's resignation is not entirely clear. It is known, however, that the difficulties between him and Count Botho Zu Eulen burg had grown too sharp to be ignored or compromised. Caprivi at first was strongly opposed to severe steps against the social democrats and anarchists,, while Eulenburg favored extreme measures. Under pressure from the emperor the chancello is said to have yielded several points early in the week, but his master only got him into trouble with the federal ministers, in council he presided yesterday. Several ministers opposed his proposal that the reichstag amend the penal code so as to deal more severely with the socialists. The individual states, they said, should be left to legislate within their own borders for the suppression of the social democracy and anarchy.

The chancellor was equally embarrassed when the question of financial reform was broached. The envoys made several demands for changes in the financial relations of the states to the empire, but the chancellor was manifestly out of sympathy

Caprivi is believed to have been crushed between the emperor and the federal envoys, not going far enough to suit the former and going too far to suit the latter. The difficulties of his position were increased, moreover, by the intrigues of Miquel and Eulenburg, who for more than a year have spared no effort to discredit his policies and diminish his influence with the crown.

One of the chancellor's last acts before offering his resignation was to notify the reichstag that the decree prohibiting advances of Russian stocks had been canceled, as no longer necessary on either economic or political grounds. The emperor had arranged to leave Pots-today to hunt in the neight Blankenburg, but he gave up the trip in view of the disruption of his cabinet. PRAYERS FOR THE CZAR.

Emperor William Attends Services a

the Russian Embassy.

Berlin, October 26.-The chapel of the Russian embassy was crowded this afternoon with distinguished persons who had been invited to attend a special service for the purpose of offering up prayers for for the purpose of the czar. The emperor of Germany was one of the earliest comers, and was received in the vestibule of the chapel by Count von Schouvaloff, the Russian ambassador. There were also pres ent Chancellor von Caprivi, Count Both Zu Eulenburg, president of the Prussian council of ministers, General von Schellindorff, minister of war; United States Am bassador Runyon, Messrs. Jackson, Evans and Vreeland, of the United States embassy, and most of the foreign ambassa dors and ministers. Besides these there were in attendance by command of the emperor, the Prussian princes, the emperor's aides, the commanding officers of the various regiments of the Berlin garrison, and the staff of the Emperor Alexan der regiment of the Prussian guard, of which the czar is honorary colonel. After the services the emperor, looking very grave, had a long talk with Count Schou

A Surgical Operation. Paris, October 26.—A dispatch from Liv-adia says that the operation of throacen-tecls has been performed upon the czar with success. The releasing of liquid matter by puncturing has greatly relieved the patient's breathing, and the pressur around the heart. It is reported that Pro fessor Leyden has declared that there is no danger of immediate collapse.

Is Much Better. London, October 26.—A dispatch received at the Russian embassy here this morning from Livadia says that the czar is much better, and that he breakfasted with ap-petite and energy. To Go to Corfu.

Plymouth, England, October 28.—The Russian imperial yacht Pole Star has left this port for Livadia, where it is under-stood she will embark the czar and im-

Chinese Defeated Near Fu-Shang-Jap anese Cross the Yalu.

London, October 26.—A dispatch to the Central News from Tokio, says that Field Marshal Count Yamagata has reported to the emperor that at daybreak on October 25th the Japanese army under his command completed its crossing of the Yalu river and in the forenoon attacked and de-capturing a the river Al.

According to the statement of a Chinese officer who was made prisoner, the enemy was eighteen batteries strong. The Chinese lost 200 killed and a large number of wounded, though it is not known how many. The number of Japanese killed and wounded was five officers and ninety men. Count Yamagara adds. Count Yamagata adds:

"Colonel Sato, with his detachment, has joined the main army and we expect to attack Kullenchao at daybreak, October 38th.

AGAINST THE BLACKS.

White Screwmen in New Orleans Will

Not Work with Negroes. New Orleans, La., October 26.—The screwmen have inaugurated a strike on the river front today. Early during the forenoon every member of the organization put down his tools and work was at an end. The trouble grows out of the recent difficulties between the whites and blacks. The screw-men, white and black, some years ago were on terms of the utmost harmony, work ing together and parading together and belonging to the same council. Trouble has been brewing between them for some time, however, and has been thratening injury to the commerce of the port. The appearance at the river front of firms of negro stevedores hiring negro screwmen, has served to accentuate the trouble, and the white screw-men have been charging that the negroes have been cutting rates and that the whites are losing ground, owing to the influx of

The white and black organizations parted company some time ago, and a fortnight back the white screwmen held a meeting and decided not to work any longer for ship agents or other employers of negro labor. Notices to this effect were sent to ship brokers and to all parties interested. The result was that many of the negroes were knocked off. Today every ship loading in the port was stopped and all hands laid off. The trade of the port is, for the time being, practically paralyzed, and the old trouble that has been fomenting for weeks has developed into what really promises to be one of the most disastrous labor dis-putes that New Orleans has experienced since the great strike of November, 1892. For some time the negro screwmen have been cutting rates and offering labor at a cut of 15 cents per bale below the rates heretofore demanded and received by like white organizations

PRAIRIE FIRES IN NEBRASKA Consuming Everything as They

Spread-Ranches Burned. naha, Neb., October 26.- Lashed on by a furious wind, the prairie fires that are now raging in the northwestern part of the like rapidity and consuming everything in their track. Last night the blaze was deliven through the central portion of Sheridan and Cherry counties and in their track were the big Osborne and Spade ranches and a number of smaller ones. This morning not a vestige of these ranches, remains except the bare and scorched Late this afternoon the fire is reported to have reached Pullman and the whole country in that neighborhood is a raging fur-nace. It is not known whether any lives are lost are not, but thousands of head of cattle have perished. People in the track of the fire are fleeing for their lives, leaving all their property to the mercy of the flames.

At Homingford, John Bliss, one of the men badly burned while fighting the de-mon, is reported as dead, and others of the victims dying.

So far as can be learned the flames have not jumped the Freemont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley Black Hills tracks, but it is feared that they may at any time. Little, if any, damage has been done as yet to railroad property on this line. The blaze is supposed to have been set by a drunken man near Mullin, but this is not authentic. So far the flames have traveled a stretch of country over two hundred miles in length and seventy miles wide. last report is from Hecia, where considerable damage was done. At this place the wind turned south, driving the flames ton an asyet unvisited county.

SAFETY DEPOSIT VAULT ROBRED. A Thief Who Puzzles the Omaha Detectives.

Omaha, Neb., October 26.-The fact was made public this afternoon that the safety deposit vault section of the Omaha National bank had been robbed and so dextrously that no clue to the manner in which the work was done is obtainable. Large sur money have been taken from boxes in the vault and the exact amount of the losses cannot be known until all have been exam-ined. The discovery was made more than two weeks ago, and every precaution has been taken by the bank officials to keep the matter a close secret. Chief of Police Seavy and his detectives have been work. ing industriously on the case and J. H. Millard, president of the Omaha National bank, has given the largest part of his time since the discovery to an effort to unravel the mystery surrounding the case.

The principal loser is William Gladish.
Last March he placed in his box 25,700 in gold. On October 5th, he discovered that about $1,200 of the amount was missing. He at once notified Mr. Millard and the all efforts to discover the manner in which the money was lost have failed and the bank authorities as well as the police are as much in the dark as ever.

FUMIGATING THE ROOMS. Another Case of Smallpox in the Interior Department.

Washington, October 26.—Another case of smallpox developed this morning. James I. Parker, of Indiana, a law clerk in the division where the other cases were reported, was the victim. Secretary Smith issued directions today to have the de-partment closed tomorrow. This action was taken before the secretary was aware of the new case. He said that the order to close was on account of the fumigation of several rooms in the building, which was very disagreeable to persons employed in the building.

Large Warehouse Burned.

Chicago, October 26.—The north half of the mammoth brick warehouse belonging to the William Deering Harvester works, located at Ciybourn avenue and the north branch of the Chicago river, was destroyed by fire this morning. The building housed by fire this morning. The building housed a large amount of hemp and complete machinery, and its contents are a total loss. The loss on the building is placed at $15,000. On the contents there was a loss of $175,000, partly covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Pennsylvania and Virgin

Washington, October 3.—The University of Pennsylvania defeated the University of Virginia at football here today after a hard fought game by a score of 14 to 5 in two thirty-minute halves. The match was witnessed by a large crowd, among which were many representatives of Washington's most exclusive society.

THE SENATORSHIP

Now Holds the Right of Way in the General Assembly.

ALL INTEREST CENTERED THEREON

Pat Walsh Denounces as Palse Journal Fake,

REGARDING HIS WASHINGTON SPEECH

All the Candidates Grooming Their Forces and Preparing for the Final Test of Strength—The Estimates.

Now that the contest for judges and icitors has been ended, the senatorship is of all absorbing interest.

After that is over the legislature can ge down to legitimate business. Elections in legislature are very much on the order of the bookmaker's ring before a horse race. They are demoralizing to the legislators. The contests in yesterday's caucus were hot. The defeated candidates and their friends indulged in some very robust profanity about the Kimball last night. There was all sorts of talk about a slate and such things which usually follow such exciting

As strange as it would appear, three out of the four senatorial candidates were somewhat jubilant over the results of the caucus elections. Three of them claimed that the action of the caucus demonstrated their strength. The Turner forces were the only ones not jubilant. The election of Judge Spencer Atkinson as justice of the supreme court is said to be a large, long and sharp nail in the senatorial coffin of Congress man Henry G. Turner. Just how that is made out is not diagramed, but it is presumed to mean that Judge Atkinson's friends in south Georgia elected him on promises to the friends of senatorial candidates that his friends would aid them, and of course his boomers are the same men who have been urgently advocating Mr. Turner.

But which one of the senatorial candidatis is going to draw this Turner strength is not known. It may have been a shrewd move on the part of Judge Atkinson's managers to win friends of all the senatorial candidates. However it was, Judge Atkinson went through on a well oiled track.

The Bacon and Garrard forces were par ticularly jubilant last night.

Bacon's Billowy Boom .

Around the Bacon headquarters there was an air of supreme contentment. Bill Felton was so well satisfied that Bacon would be elected on the first ballot that he took a night off and went to the theater. Judge Lawton Miller was happy and smiling and Major Bacon himself wore an air of satisfaction. The Bacon boys about the headquarters and down in the lobby were so happy that they devoted their attention to story telling, after having made repeated offers to bet on Major Bacon's election without getting any takers.

It was a happy evening for all of them. They believed the senatorial election was practically at an end and they were preparing themselves for the jubilation to be indulged in when the curtain of the caucus election is raised. They count it as a sure thing on the first ballot, and some of them offer to cack their judgment with nice little rolls of silver certificates. The Turner men, however, don't like to take silver certificates or treasury notes even in a bet. They want the shining gold article or the yellow-back gold certificate. But then they are not betting.

In dealing in figures the Bacon men claim votes sure, and express the opin ion that a may run up on the first ballot to more . a hundred.

Garrard's Guns.

Around Mr. Garrard's headquarters there was a humming air of industry last night. It was an air of business. Tom Hunt, Price Gilbert and popular G. Y. Tignor wore a lively, hustling air that meant something big was in the wind. Mr. Garrard himsel wore the air of a man who sees a light of great hope upon the eastern horizon The bustle in his headquarters was an indication that a big hand was there and that it was to be played with diplomatic skill. Subterranean trenches may have been in process of con struction or a blind ditch may have been planned like unto the one into which Napolecn's forces fell at Waterloo. It may have been the results of the caucus. But whatever it was the Garrard forces wore an air of mysterious contentment. They had no hesitation in saying that no election could possibly be on the first ballot and that votes for Garrard would spread over the legislative halls after the first ballot like fire over sun-dried prairie grass. It would be from 45 to 50 on the first ballot and then it would grow in the decimal ratio until victory perched upon the banner.

Walsh Is Happy.

Of all the candidates Senator Pat Walsh seems the most contented and happy. He makes no claims of strength, but simply de clares himself the logical candidate and tells good stories to those who crowd around him. He is happy in the love which his own people bear for him. And well he might be. Few men in this country were ever given such a demonstration of devotion as that which he received from the five hundred Augusta people who came up to hear his speech Thursday evening. It was an ovation that any man would be proud of. And Mr. Walsh may not be out of the race by any means. While he has not many votes he is the strongest sort of a second choice. His friends think there will be a

Turner Prepared to Charge. Mr. Turner's friends were not happy last night, but they wore straight faces and appeared to know a few things. They made claims of 65 votes and said they had them Politicians from all over south Georgic came in yesterday to aid him, but they delayed their attack. Last night they con-ferred for hours today and they will enter the charge. What they accomplish remains to be seen. They recognize that it is an uphill charge with no trees upon the hillside but they are nerved to make it, and as a last resort face the gatling guns of the Summed Up in a Paragraph. To sum up the situation, as it appeared last night; there was every indication that Major Bacon was in possession of the hidden hand, and that he had a firm grasp upon it. It looked like the pot was his and that the others were butting against a stone wall in their charges. But politics is like poker. You cannot always tell the win-ner until the hands are laid upon the table. The question is, what does Garrard hold?

And is it possible for a dark horse to in and scoop the pot?

Mr. Walsh's Deni ed man in town when he read in yesterday's Journal an editorial purporting to quote a speech he made in Washington, Ga., criticising The Constitution's views as to the cause of the low price of cotton.

"I never made such a speech as that," said he, "and I have never seen such a re port in The Washington Chronicle. Journal editor has made some mistake. He must have elipped out a report of somebody else's speech, and mixed up his clip pings. Not a word or a sentiment expressed in that extract is mine. I shall write a note to the editor of The Journal about it tomorrow. I regret his mistake. The Washington Chronicle's report of my speech was reproduced in The Augusta Chronicle of last Monday, and is very different from that which The Journal printed."

SPEAKER CRISP HERE. En Route to Columbus Where He

Speaks This Evening. Speaker Charles F. Crisp was here last night en route from Nashville to Columbus. He speaks at Columbus this evening. He and Congressman Moses, who came over to meet him, will leave on an early train this meet nim, will teave on an early train the morning for Columbus.

Judge Crisp spoke in Chattanooga Wednesday evening and in Nashville Thurs-day evening. At both places he was greeted with the greatest of enthusiasm and the newspapers in both cities printed full re-ports of his speech.

'I have never received warmer or more enthusiastic welcomes anywhere than at Chattanooga and Nashville," said he last evening. 'The people in Tennessee are exhibiting much enthusiasm in the congressional contests. Though the outlook was not bright several weeks ago in the Chattanooga district, during the past two weeks I understand there has been a change in t and the democrats are now con fident that Mr. Snodgrass will be re-elected.

Of course the Nashville district will return Mr. Washington and we may possibly win one of the republican districts in Tennessee."

Speaker Crisp will go to Americus to spend Sunday with his family after his speech in Columbus this evening. Monday he will probably be in Atlanta again on his way to Alabama, where he goes to aid in the congressional contests in that state. He speaks in Birmingham Tuesday.

Congressman Moses, who was here last night to meet Speaker Crisp, is very confident of his re-election to congress. Mr. Moses has a hard fight, but feels that he will win out by a good majority.

FIVE HOUSES BURNED.

A Midnight Blase Plays Sad Havo with a Group of Dwellings.

At 12.15 o'clock this morning fire originated in a group of dwelling houses on the corner of Pulliam and Vassa streets, near the city limits. In an hour all were in ashes and five homeless families were gazing upon the smoking embers of most of their property. It was the ugliest bluze to which the department has been called for some time. The distance from the engine houses, the nearness of the dwellings to each other and the headway the fire had gained before the alarm was turned in made the most strenyous effort of the firemen almost futile. It was one of those fires which seems determined to sweep out everything in the neighborhood before stopping. At the corner of Vassar and Pulliam the settlement is thick, and several other houses near the group were partially burned.

The middle house in the group that burned was occupied by Mrs. Lizzie Leftworth. It was here that it started, but how is a "I was sleeping soundly," said Mrs. Left.

worth, "and the first thing I knew was hearing Mr. Jim White, who boards next door, jumping in at the window. The rear portion of the house was all afire then and I had to run to get out in time. I haven't the slightest idea how the fire started. self and I went to bed early. It must hav caught from the kitchen."

Next to the house occupied by Mrs. Left worth lived H. A. Starr. With him boarded Mr. Jim White and Patrolman Ben White, who were the first to notice the fire. The place was totally destroyed and only a part of the furniture was saved. In a few econds the houses occupied by W. H. Hines, J. H. Clarke and a vacant house on the corner were in flames. All of these ex-cept Clarke's house were wholly destroyed, one side of that remained. At this house pitiful scene occurred. Miss May Clarke had een ill with typhoid fever for some weeks She was thoroughly exhausted from the long sickness and much excited by the fire. While the building was burning the young lady was removed and carried into the street. She was afterwards carried over to a house on the opposite side of the

On the early morning train yesterday there was another large delegation out, and again yesterday afternoon the train was crowded with admirers of the senator who were seeking home. Last night the train carried still another large contingent of the Augustans home, and this morning still more will go.

The Walsh badge was seen at nearly every turn yesterday and all during the day the senator was at home to his friends. He was in his apartments nearly all of the time, and was constantly surrounded by admirers and friends, all of whom were sanguine of the result.

An Important Question Before the State Czar Alexander Seems Sinking Railway Commission,

This is one of the greatest questions that has been before the Georgia railroad commission for a long time, for it involves a very great deal to all the roads entering the towns and cities throughout the state. The question has been thoroughly argued by the representatives of the verde and by the representatives of the roads, and it is now pending before the commiss The members of the railroad commis are busily engaged every day in studying the question and reading over the argu-ments, pro and con. The case was sprung by the roads that enter the town of Al-with railroads for the use of terminals rests solely with the road that owns the terminals, and he claimed further that the road that owned the terminals has the right to make such terms with the other ads as it saw fit and proper. He went further to show that the matter was one that was not within the scope of the powers of the railroad commission, since it was a pure matter of private contract between the road that owns the side tracks and the road that wants to use the side-

The fact that nearly every railroad in the state of Georgia at some point has to use the sidetracks of another road, makes the question a serious and important one.

The charge for the use of sidetracks has been, heretofore, $2 per car for a distance less than three miles. There is a kick made on this charge to the railroad commission, being claimed that the roads ought to be made to charge less.

This was what brought the question to a battle of argument on both sides. Colonel Thomas, who, perhaps, represents a railroad that has more interest in the mat-ter than any of the rest of them in this state, claims that the charges can only be regulated on the sidetracks of the rail-roads at the different intermediate sections, and not at the terminal places. instance, it can be regulated at a place like Dalton where the old East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia and the Western and Atlantic cross, but that it cannot be regulated by the commission in Atlanta or in cities where railroads have their terminals.

The question is full of interest to all the roads, and the railroad men of the state will watch with peculiar interest the final ad-justment of the proposition by the Georgia

Into the Sleep of Death.

A RELENTLESS DISEASE.

It Has Progressed Steadily for Two Years and He Was Warned at That Time of His Danger.

Surrounded by members of his family and by the foremost physicians of Europe, the caar awaits the sleep of death at Livadia, in the the Crimea. Armies and battalions of people protect him from the nihilists, but no mortal power can ward off the malady that has attacked his life.

In this anxious hour the official bulletins have ceased to fle. They admit that the cast has Bright's disease of the kidneys in an advanced stage and that there is no hope for him. The Paris Figaro says that the first signs of this dreafful malady were discovered August 18th, last.

This is a gross error. Two years ago his majesty developed symptoms that pointed to Bright's disease, and he was warned then that not a moment was to be lost. He complained of an untimely drowsiness, his countenance was pale and had a haggard look. The skim under his eyes lacked luster and animation. His appetite was uncertain, his sleep disturbed, and his mind was gloomy. Although a man of enormous muscular strength the czar had frequent faint spells and sinkings at the pit of the stomach.

But the czar disregarded all warnings un-solemn warnings—the same unfailing symptoms.

If you, reader, have felt as the czar felt, do you know what it means? Do you realize your danger? Are you aware that these symptoms are the certain forerunners of the greatest American malady, Bright's disease; that it comes unexpectedly, attacks both men and women, and is seidom understood until it is too late?

There has never been but one remedy for this great modern malady, Bright's disease. That remedy known to and acknowledged by the best scientists and physicians of the world—commended abroad and endorsed at home—in fact, the greatest discovery of modern disease is Warner's Safe Cure.

This great popular remedy would never have been so famous if it did not restore the kidneys to a healthy state, thereby relieving the pressure on the other excretory organs. It cures the debility that robs the patient of a little strength every day.

"Warner's Bafe Cure," said a distinguished pathologist in a recent lecture, "is a mighty bulwark standing between the threatened people and the ravages of Bright's disease."

No age, nor sex, nor climate, nor occupation affords immunity from Bright's disease, but under any and all circumstances this great remedy justifies the praise of the physician just quoted.

A DAY FOR FAVORITES. Three Finished First at St. Asaph's.

Racing at Nashville. Washington, D. C., October 26,—Three favorites finished first at the St. Asaph's track today and two of them were at odds. Warm weather drew out another large crowd and they backed their choice freely. The number of bookmakers was swelled to twenty-three. Gold Dollar, whose price opened at 7 to 5. went to the post as favorite at even in the handicap. H was slow to start, but succeeded in getting with-in a couple of lengths of King Gold, who led the field in the back stretch. Hazel Hatch closed at the upper turn and in a driving finish defeated King Gold by half a length, the latter getting the place from the favo-rite by a length. Prince John, on whom odds of 3 to 5 were offered, won as he odds of 3 to 5 were offered, won as he pleased in the second event. Getting the lead at the flag-fall, he was never headed. Little Matt, a second choice, captured the fourth race. Beauregard, an outsider at 20 to 1, took the lead at the first furlong and earried it well toward the first furlong was thought to so far outclass his field that 2 to 1 was offered against the field. The betting was unusually brisk in the fifth. The Louise filly was a favorite at post time and 3 to 1 could be had on both Midgely and Cockade. Derelict had the best of the field up to the final furlong, where he got pocketed by Cockade in attempting to take the rall. Though forced to pull back, he had speed enough left to defeat Midgely for place by half a length, but could not catch Cockade, who won by half a length. Our Jack was made favorite in the last event and won rather handily.

First race, heavy handicap, six furlongs, Hazel Hatch, 108, Doggett, 2 to 1, won; King Gold, 103, Griffin, 5 to 2, second; Gold Dollar 109, Simms, even, third, Time 1:17.

Fifth race, selling, six furlongs, Cockade, 108, Doggett, 3 to 1, won; Derelict, 108, Simms, 5 to 1, second; Midgley, 112, Midgeley, 5 to 3, third. Time 1:17%.

Sixth race, Consolation, one mile, Our Jack, 113, Simms, 7 to 16, won; Ed Kearney, 110, Doggett, 7 to 2, second; Brambletta, filly, 77, A. Barrett, 6 to 1, third. Time 1:42.

Nashville, October 26.—Three favorites, a second choice and a 12 to 1 shot won the races at Cumberland park today. The weather was threatening and the attendance small. The track was fast, however, and the books were kept pretty busy. The surprise of the day developed in the sider, won easily from the heavily-played favorite, Denver.

My bill provides for such a system and brings it about simply apd cheaply. The only extra cost under it will be the price of the registration books. The legal voters, as defined by the laws of the state, are the people who ought to be registered, and under this bill they will be registered each year. It provides that the tax collector shall stamp the receipt with the year which is covered by the taxes which the receipt represents and that this in itself will be a registration certificate. You will see that it does away with the necessity of getting out the people to register, for whether a man goes himself to pay his taxes or not, he is registered as soon as those taxes are paid. The bill further requires that the county authorities having jurisdiction in the matter shall have made, thirty days before the general election, a list of the qualified voters, which will be placed in the hands of the election authorities. No man whose name is not on the list shall be allowed to vote except where it is made plain that he has been qualified since the list was made out. The books shall be kept on file in the tax collector's office, where they will be of easy reference, and at a very small cost the work of registration will be accomplished and the uniform registration so much desired will

Mr. Awtrey, member from Cobb county, introduced a resolution in the house providing for the appointment of a joint committee of five to investigate and report upon the exact condition of the Northeastern railroad and the state's interest in that property. The Fishing Industries. Mr. Rockwell of Chatham, introduced two blis yesterday, which stamp him as the speual defender of the fish industries of the state. His first was a bill to require non-traident fishermen engaged in the business of capturing fish for market or gain to pay a license of $500 for the privilege of catching shad in any of the tidewater rivers of this state. The bill requires that the license be goven from the county commisment in the county jail from thirty days to six months.

Mr. Rockwell's second bill amends the section of the code relating to the regulation of the time when fish may be taken in the waters of the state, by making it read from "12 o'clock Saturday night to 12 o'clock Sunday night" instead of "from sunset Sunday night to sunrise Monday morning."

Mr. Rockwell introduced a bill proscribing a punishment for various crimes which is the same bill which was introduced by Hon. John I, Hall in the last house.

Mr. Middlebrooks believes in international transportation and especially in perfecting communication with Central and South America. In the house yesterday he introduced a joint resolution requesting the senators and representatives from Georgia in congress to tavor the building of an international railway to South America.

Offices to Be Filled.

An invitation from the Dixie Interstate fair at Macon for the legislature to visit the fair on Monday next, which is Atlanta day, gave the able representatives from Bibb county excellent opportunities for an oratorical display. Mr. Boffeuillet started it going and his brilliant effort was ably onded by Mr. Polhill and Mr. Hodges. Mr. Polhill emphasized the fact that the invitation was not restricted to the members of the legislature, but included the candidates for offices before that body as well.

Mr. Bolfeuillet, however, doubted whether Macon would be able to entertain all of these latter gentlemen at one time, as the capacity of the city was necessarily limited, and this hit at the multitude of willing workers was heartily applauded.

It was pointed out that next Monday, the election for judges and solicitors, will take place, and it will be impossible for many of the members of the legislature to be absent that day. Mr. Hodges at first sug-gested that another day be fixed but after onsultation, it was found that it would be next to impossible to name any date which would suit everybody and the invitawhich would suit everybody and the invita-tion was allowed to stand with the under-standing that those members who can do so well, will accept it. They will be able to go to Macon and return in time for the speaking Monday night.

A Special Message. The governor sent a special message to the legislature yesterday bearing upon the military affairs of the state. It was read in both houses and was as follows:

"Executive Department, Atlanta, Ga., October 26, 1894.—To the General Assembly: Through some inadvertence, my message to the general assembly did not contain my recommendations covering the military forces of the state. recommendations covering the military forces of the state.

"Under appropriations previously made by the general assembly, the troops are being put into admirable condition. For each of the years 1893 and 1894, the state appropriated $20,000; of which $700 was for each year set aside for the expenses of the adjutant general's office, expenses of the advisory board, boards of examination, etc. The remainder of the appropriation is used exclusively, under the terms of the act, for expenses at the camp and those incident thereto.

"The federal government, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, appropriated $11,213.96 for the equipment of the state forces. This money has been expended in procuring ordnance, ordnance supplies, quartermaster's stores, one Gatling gun and carriage, knapsacks, haversacks, canteens, campaign hats, national colors for each of the six regiments of infantry, rife and carbine ammunition, target and gallery and carbine ammunition, target and gallery material, repair and rebrowning of arms in the hands of troops, and other similar

"The ground upon which the camp of instruction is located, together with all the improvements thereon, is the property of the state. It is situated to the south of Griffin, and about one mile from the city. It is centrally located as to the state, and it is easily and conveniently accessible, therefore, to all the state troops. The camp of instruction, the past year, was divided into two tours of duty of ten days each; the first tour from May 21st to May 30th, inclusive; second tour from June 5th to June 14th, inclusive. During the first tour the Second tour from June 5th to June 14th, inclusive. During the first tour from the companies, infantry, and three newly admitted companies, were present in the camp. "The personnel of the troops attending the camp of instruction is of a high order, and represent the best element of all classes of our citizens. The officers are competent and capable men. Many, if not most of them, are leading professional and business men, and they bring strong character to the military forces of the state. The discipline in camp under such authority, could not be otherwise than good.

The crowning glory of this encampment has been, not simply the willingness, but the apparent desire of the men to discard all glitter and tinsel, and assume the garb best adapted to a soldier's work."

"This statement of the management of the camp and of the soldierly bearing of the men is fairly representative of the conduct of the forces and the discipline of the officers during their attendance upon the camp of instruction each year.

"The railroads of the state have shown an appreciation of the value of the troops by affording ample facilities for their transportation on all occasions, and in the assistance rendered the state officers in the performance of their duty requiring travel.

"The men composing the forces give their time without adequate compensation, and hold themselves in readiness at all times, under the cail of the commander in chief to respond to any demand and to any duty required of them, to defend the honor or maintain the dignity, peace and good order of the state.

"I have found especial pride in the organization of the forces, their soldierly bearing, their promptness to respond to duty and obey orders, as well as the cheerfulness with which they give their time and services to the state.

"I have appreciated, also, the liberality of the general assembly, during my administration, in providing a camp of instruction and the appropriation needed to maintain and improve the forces during their attendance thereupon.

"I recommend, therefore, not only the continuance of the appropriation, usually made to volunteer forces, but such additional amounts as in the wisdom of the general assembly may seem due for the full protection of the state against invasion, insurrection, riot, and mob violence. These dangers are all the time possible and threatening, and the executive would be absolutely powerless to maintain order and command peace, without a well organized and thoroughly equipped military force.

"I most heartily commend to your consideration the thorough and complete organization of the military force of the state.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

The reception room of the executive department received notable additions yesterday in the shape of portraits of ex-Governors Boynton, Colquitt and Gordon, and of Governor Northen. The portraits are by Field, and everybody who has seen them remarks on their excellence. They are, indeed, splendid likenesses and in every respect portraits which add to the reputation of their distinguished creator.

Hon, J. L. Beach, of Brunswick, is one of the prominent lookers-on, and has been doing a great deal of good work for Judge Spencer Atkinson. The Brunswick delegation has been very enthusiastic in the support of this brilliant son of Glynn and his victory caused great rejoicing among them.

"The newspapers have inadvertently created a wrong impression concerning the decrease which Colonel Atkinson's vote shows when compared with the vote received by the rest of the state ticket," said a prominent state official vesterates." ceived by the rest of the state ticket," said a prominent state official yesterday. "The fact is, Colonel Atkinson ran only about 3,500 behind his ticket, an average of twenty-five to a county, which is just about what was expected, as the head of the ticket always runs behind the others on it. When you consider that about 1,000 of this fall-off was here in Fulton county, you will see that the average fall-off in the rest of the state is quite small."

In the contest for the position of associate justice of the supreme court, a deserved compliment was paid Colonel I. E. Shumate, of Whitfield. Colonel Shumate was first announced in this connection by his friends when the question of the succession of Judge Simmons arose in the event he was promoted to the position of chief justice. Colonel Shumate is a gentleman whose legal experience and scholarly attainments especially fit him for this position. He was unanimously endorsed by the bar of the two judicial circuits in which he especially practices, and heartily supported by the representatives and senators of his section. His friends only attempted to organize in his favor two days since, and they found the field already thoroughly worked. It is to be hoped that another time Colonel Shumate will enter the field, and that his merit will be recognized with the election to this position, for which he is so eminently fitted.

The interest in the judicial election yes-terday seemed to absorb all other inter-ests. Now that they are settled, the sena-torial caucus will focus the attention.

Colonel Atkinson Was Here. Colonel Atkinson spent a few hours in the city yesterday, returning to his home in Newnan on the 1:30 train.

While he was here he met the committee of the legislature and also met a number of enthusiastic friends and candidates for office. To all of these he announced that he could not consider any application for position except for the clerkships in the executive department until after Monday. He has given no intimation as to who will hold the positions in the executive department, but it is known that there will be some changes there. Everybody is at sea concerning probabilities in this line, and, indeed, the same uncertainty prevails concerning other offices in the gift of the governor-elect. FOR THE JEWISH ORPHANS' HOME Joe Hirsch and the Members of the Committee Are Working Hard.

Since returning from Washington and Baltimore a week ago Hon. Joe Hirsch has been working industriously to raise his part of the $25,000 needed to enlarge the Hebrew Orphans' Home.

At the meeting of the members of the board of control in Washington last week, at which the Hon. Simon Wolf was present, Mr. Hirsch agreed to raise in Atlanta $3,000 of the money needed. At the time he made that promise Mr. Hirsch knew that there was quite a snug sum of money awaiting the orders of the home, which had been accumulated in one way and another, and through that Atlanta would be doing more than any other section if $3,000 was subscribed within her limits. Mr. Hirsch has been home from that meeting less than a week and now has less than $1,000 to raise to make good his promise.

"I have secured," said he yesterday,
"and without any hard work either, over $1,000 since I came home and have the bal-ance of the $3,000 I promised in sight. We will need for the work, as has been stated, about $25,000, and that amount is practi-cally raised. When we discussed the matwe knew that we had about or nearly $14,000 of the money then on hand. By a raffle in Atlanta three years ago we secure about $2,700, which we have since had. In Macon at a banquet of the grand lodge of B'Nai Brith we raised $4,000. Then in Rich mond there was a bequest to us of $5,000. All of this put together gives us nearly $14,000, and that amount has been augmented by the $1,000 I have raised right here in Atlanta since I came home. I raise the other $2,000 without any trouble, and then the building will be in sight, for the other gentlemen will have fattened the

"How much building will the committee add to the home?" was asked.
"When the work is completed the build-ing will have about twice the capacity it has. Two dormitories will be built and a very large hall will be added. As has been stated before, the building now terribly crowded, so much so that additions are absolutely necessary. The home is full and there are applications or file for accommodations, accommodations that should be granted, which cannot be supplied. That the $10,000, that is about the amount now needed to make good the $25,000, will be quickly raised no one has the least doubt. Just as soon as the money is raised, too, the work will be ommenced and the home will within a short time have double the capacity it now has.' The Hebrews of the city are not the only ones who are taking an active part in raising the $3,000 Hon. Joe Hirsch has promised. His friends and the friends of the orphans all over the city are hard at work on the line of securing the money and within the next week it is a certainty that Hon. Simon Wolf will be informed that Atlanta has contributed her share and that the Gate City of the South was the first to comply with the promises made to the great philanthropist, who is giving the declining years of his life to the orphan children of his people and to what ever good comes his way in life.

The Rice Crop.
Savannah, Ga., October 26.—(Special.)—The Savannah, Ga., October 28.—(Special.)—The situation with the rice men is an interesting one. The largest inquiries received from New Orleans and Wilmington for rough rice afford strong evidence that the crop is decidedly short at both of these places and nothing like the demand. The latest estimates of the total crop are only 4,000,000 bushel for the United States against twice that amount sent out in the estimates of two months ago. The short crop is calculated to raise prices, but the planters say that the low price of cotton is interfering so much with the sale of rice that little can be expected until there is a change one way or another in the cotton market. The consequence is the rice here is being held to a great extent in anticipation of an improvement.

AN INTERESTING EXPERIMENT OF

ARTIFICIAL DIGESTION.

Your reporter, among others, was recently requested to witness an experiment at the New York laboratory of the Pre-Digested Food Company. It seems that the digestive properties of Paskola, their new food, have been questioned in some quarters, and it was important that the matter should be definitely settled once for all. It was to see an actual test that we had received the invitation. After a cordial greeting the chemist in charge said: "Make yourat once proceed to business.

At this juncture one of the laboratory assistants appeared with a supply of beef hard-boiled eggs, fish, poultry and game which he had minced very finely in order to imitate the effects of natural mastication. A quantity of interesting apparatus was then brought forth, and the mixed food having been divided into equal portions, was placed in two similar jars. To each of them was added acidulated but to one was made a further addition of each of them was added acidulated water, but to one was made a further addition of a dose of Paskola from a bottle which your reporter had been instructed to purchase in the open market.

Both jars were now warmed to the temperature of the body, and thus kept for two hours. At the end of this time the jars were removed from the dainty little oven in which they had stood, when lot and behold, we found that whereas the contents of one of them had undergone no change whatever, the food in the other, to which had been added the Paskola,, had literally dissolved like so much sugar, and a clear, limpid solution was the result. This, to our uninitiated eyes, was most marvelous, and almost savored of magic, for we had often seen beef bolled in water without otherwise changing than to part with its color. Yet here, at the gentle temperature of the body, it had been rendered completely soluble. The chemist, while not surprised, was no less pleased than ourselves. He observed: "Gentlemen, if you would know whether or not Paskola possesses decided digestive properties, look to those jars for an answer." The evidence was so simple that we could not fail to comprehend the matter. He told us that the base of Paskola was artificially digested starch and that for this reason it was a the base of Paskola was artificially digested starch and that for this reason it was a flesh-producing food vastly superior to cod liver oil or any of the nauseous drugs here fiver oil or any of the hauseous drugs here-tofore used for this purpose. He stated, furthermore, that as we had seen, it pos-sessed, the property of digesting other foods in the stomach, and thus was an ac-tive aid to digestion. I was permitted to sketch the jars after the experiment had been completed, as reproduced above. sediment shown by the shading in jar I represents the undigested food as when placed in it. We were told that thousands of sufferers had used Paskola with great of sufferers had used Paskola with great benefit, and were shown a large number of letters in this connection. I quote from a few of them as follows: Mrs. W. T. Andrews, of Gold Hill, Ala., says that she has been treated for years for indigestion by the most eminent physicians with only temporary benefit. She began taking Paskola four weeks ago, has already gained eight (3) pounds, and now eats steak, chicken, and in fact everything her appe-tite craves.

chicken, and in fact everything her appetite craves.

R. P. Cross, of 74 Michigan avenue, Hammond, Ind., wrote that he gained four (4) pounds the first week, and is so enthusiastic that he pronounces Paskola superior to any medicine he ever saw.

Mrs. M. L. Grantz, of Spring Valley, New York, whose letter was dated June 26th, says that she, too, suffered from chronic dyspepsia for years. At times even a drink of water distressed her. She has been greatly benefited by the use of Paskola, greatly benefited by the use of Paskola, and says that she is now convinced by her general condition that she derives nourishment from food which she formerly did not. These statements but confirm the test which we had witnessed.

The Pre-Digested Food Company, of No. 30 Reade street, New York, will gladly mail their free pamphlet on the subject of food and digestion to any one who may send their name.

Owing to the crowded condition of Sun day's Constitution it is absolutely neces sary that our advertising friends should SEND IN THEIR COPY BY 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT, as after that hour neithe classification nor space will be guaranteed. The Man the People Want.

The senator to be selected by the genral assembly now in session will serve for a term of six years. During that period great events will take placeevents of the most vital importance to the welfare of the people. A great issue-the greatest in its farreaching results that the people's representatives have ever been called on to settle-will be disposed of during that period.

It is important, therefore, that the man who is to be selected to represent the people of the state of Georgia in their sovereign capacity for the term of six years, should be thoroughly in sympathy with the people when this great issue comes up for settlement. We need not discuss that issue in this place. The members of the general assembly know what it is and the people know what it is. It will continue to press for settlement as long as our financial measures are dictated by British and European interests, and not by the interests of the people of this country.

Never in the history of Georgia has the selection of a senator been of more importance than it is today. Never have the people had greater interests at stake, so far as federal legislation is concerned, than they will have during the term of the senator who is to be selected by the general assembly.

The legislature, we are sure, is thoroughly in accord with the people on the great issue that is to be settled in congress, and the people are practically unanimous in favor of American financial legislation by Americans and for Americans. This being true it is incumbent on the representatives of the people to make no mistake, but to sepledged to carry out the people's views without any "ifs" or "ands."

Mr. Cleveland's Attitude.

When it became known that the democratic party in New York would be opposed by that element that professes to be ardently, devoted to Mr. Cleveland, it was hoped and believed that the president would speak the word that would prevent opposition, and use his official and personal influence as a democrat to strengthen the party organization.

If the campaign in New York were an ordinary one the democrats of the country would not expect Mr. Cleveland to take more than ordinary interest an the result. But the election in New York next month will settle the question whether that great state will be in the democratic column in 1896. If the republicans win, they can only win by reason of the division that has been created in the democratic organization by the real or pretended friends of Mr. Cleveland.

This being plain to democrats throughout the country, they have hoped and believed that at the proper moment Mr. Cleveland would speak the word that would put an end to the opposition drummed up by men calling themselves his friends and that would restore complete harmony. It was understood, of course, that Mr. Cleveland has an intense personal dislike to Mr. Hill, but It was hoped and believed by the democrats of the country that the president would place the interests of the party above his personal dislikes and prejudices, at least for the moment. It was thought that as Mr. Hill had shown himself to be broad minded and patriotic enough to sink his prejudices out of sight whenever the occasion demanded it. Mr. Cleveland would find it easy to make so small a sacrifice for his party. That would have been the manly course-a course dictated by every suggestion of patriotism and by every instinct of party loyalty. We need not say that such a course would have given Mr. Cleveland a new claim on the admiration and esteem of those who believe in democratic principles, and who take no interest whatever in the petty prejudices, jealousies and animosities that sometimes spring up between

But Mr. Cleveland has allowed the opportune moment to pass. He could not now add any more strength or any more harmony to the democratic organization than it has already acquired in spite of his strange silence and in the

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION I state of anxions for its defeat, and behalf of the organization and its candidates would convince the voters of New York or the democrats of the rest of the country that he sincerely desires the success of the party in his native

> Meanwhile, the independent candidate, Mr. Everett Wheeler, who has been put up to defeat the party's candidate, is proclaiming that Mr. Cleveland is for him and will vote for him. This is probably having some effect, but it gives us pleasure to know that some of the men who have been accused of placing Mr. Cleveland above party and party siderations have demonstrated their patriotism and their loyalty to democratic principles by announcing for Hill and the regular organization. Undoubtedly the situation in New York affords a test of the sincerity of those who claim to be democrats. Men who are unable to sink their prejudices and lay aside their petty spites to serve the party at a very serious crisis in its history may call themselves democrats, but they lack the first element of democracy, to-wit: that democratic principles are more important than any man or set of men.

Under all the circumstances we think that Mr. Cleveland owes it to his party to make his position clear and unmis takable. We do not think that he can afford, consistently with the obligations he owes to the people, to lay himself open to the charge of stabbing Hill and through Hill, the party, in the back. Such a style of doing business is not characteristic of Mr. Cleveland, But this is the attitude in which his silence places him.

Mr. Hill has been manly enough to give the democratic administration a cordial endorsement. Let Mr. Cleveland be manly enough to declare his opposition to Hill, if he is opposed to him, and not strike him from behind the screen of silence. If Mr Cleveland is indifferent to the success of Hill and the party in New York, let him say so. If he is anxious for the defeat of Hill and the party let him say so. In this way he will not only clear the political atmosphere, but retain the reputation for candor that he has honestly won.

Pay and Patriotism.

Our dispatches inform us that the Japanese are amused and astonished to find that their Chinese prisoners have not the slightest spark of patriotism and are only concerned about their pay, which they are begging the Japanese to collect from the Chinese government.

These prisoners frankly avow that they are mere mercenaries, fighting for money and nothing else. They are well satisfied to remain in captivity, provided they can get their pay. .

The spirit which animates these unpatriotic hirelings is not confined to China. Even in our own country we find legions of men who think more of pay than patriotism, and who care little about the welfare of the republic so long as they can reap the fruits of patronage. Our political mercenaries who enlist in the public service do not bother themselves about their obligations to their party. They are tied by a string to certain leaders and bosses who placed them in office, and their sole object seems to be to serve their patrons and build them up, instead of serving and building up their party.

The Chinese prisoners in Japan are willing to see their government go to the dogs, if they can collect their pay. and our political mercenaries are on the same line-ready to see their party wrecked, so long as they can secure a few patronage plums from the bosses whose collars they wear. Pay, and not patriotism, is the moving impulse of these hirelings. They are ready to repudiate their platform, split their party into factions, and paralyze every function of their government if they can get what they regard as their share of the spoils, and their allegiance is transferred in a moment from one boss to another, whenever the temptation in the shape of public plunder is sufficient.

The simple Chinese mercenaries who are clamoring for their pay are not more dangerous to their government than our political mercenaries are to the republic. So long as we have a body of men in the public service who feel under greater obligations to the dispensers of patronage than they do to their party and the government we shall be in constant danger. We need a revival of the old patriotic American

A New College Study. A practical study of poverty is announced as a part of the course of a leading college in New York city. It is proposed that under the direction of the professors certain classes of students shall study the different phases of poverty in the metropolis and tabulate the results for reference. Perhaps the experiment will lead to the establishment of a chair of poverty in this enterprising college. The bright young men who are going slumming with their professors should have every facility afforded them, but it is to be hoped that they will go with their pockets well filled when they intrude upon the pri vacy of the starving poor, and that they will refleve some of the suffering that will come under their eyes. Unless relief work is made a part of this pretentious study of poverty the whole business will simply be meddlesome and impertinent, and the self-appointed investigators will deserve to be turned over to the police.

It is not necessary for this New York college to begin a practical study of poverty. The causes of poverty in this country at the present time are wellknown. Intemperance, idleness and extravagance are among its factors, of course, but the main cause is the contraction of the currency, a policy which has lowered prices, blocked commerce and paralyzed industry. A change in our financial policy-the remonetization of silver, the expansion of the currency to $40 or $50 per capita spite of his strange silence and in the face of the active opposition of the unit would stimulate enterprise and create would stimulate enterprise and create an exhibit at the Cotton States and International exposition, it is to be hoped that president's attitude has already demiced that he is either indifferent to the success of the party in his own from industry and economy, is to re-deem the piedges of financial relief in the democratic platform.

Talking Sense at Last. The Yorkshire Post is a leading English newspaper, and it is a fair and a sensible journal.

The Post has no sympathy with the crusade of the British anti-lynchers against the south. It has studied the ynching problem, and after reading Miss Balgarnie's attack upon our people and the reply of Governor Jones, of Alabama, it gives its verdict in favor of

Our friendly English contemporary declares that lynching is likely to occur in a young and thinly settled country, and is only a phase of human law in the making. Sometimes the innocent suffer, but even that is better than apathy toward the perpetrators of crimes against womanhood. Interference on the part of the English is wholly without excuse.

Miss Balgarnie's remonstrance, addressed to the governor of Alabama, is spoken of by The Post as "a tactless screed," and that paper says that the governor is exactly right when he says that if the English anti-lynchers are justified in their meddlesome course a committee of Americans would be justifled in asking the queen, her ministers or her governor generals for official assurances of the falsity of alleged in stances of cruelty under the eviction laws of Ireland, the oppression of natives in India and Egypt, and the mur der of negroes in Africa.

It is gratifying to find such papers as The Post speaking out against the impertinence of the British anti-lynchers. It shows that there are fairminded people in England who think well of the south, and are ready to defend our people against unjust attacks.

We say that all this is gratifying, but at the same time we want it understood that the lynching evil must be suppressed, if it takes all the military power of the states to do it. But we do not mean that the suppression of the crimes against women shall be delayed. On the contrary, we believe that the crime of rape will have to cease be fore the crime of lynching can be entirely abolished.

A New Field for Women. The success of a number of women in this country who have made architecthre their profession is drawing attention to this new field of enterprise for the gentler sex. A bright woman of a practical turn of mind can beat a man nine times out of ten in planning a dwelling that will be comfortable, homelike and beautiful. Perhaps a woman architect would make a failure if she drew the design for a public building, a factory or a warehouse, but she knows just what a mansion or a cottage should be, and there is no good reason why she should not devote her attention to domestic architecture. By all means, let us widen the field of woman's work. Teaching, law, medicine, authorship and typewriting do not offer all the opportunities needed by women who are compelled to be selfsupporting. If architecture can be added to the list of their occupations, so much the better.

Many women have a natural talent for this line of work, and if some of them desire to cultivate it and make a living out of it they should be given the chance.

It should be the policy of society and the state to encourage, aid and equip women for all proper breadwinning occupations, and they should not be barred out by the senseless prejudices of those who do not appreciate the dignity of labor.

Candidate Hines received 96,000 votes in Georgia. The figures would have been much larger if the democratic bushwhackers had begun to peddle out John Sherman's financial doctrines two weeks earlier than they did.

You may be sure that the republican postmasters in New York are not for Hill and the democracy.

The Washington Post thinks the people ought to give the democratic party a recess and then a rest. Evidently somebody has hitched the wrong hoss to The Post.

"A Southern Democrat" in New York writes to The Sun that Mr. Cleveland is trying to break up the democratic party. This might be important if it were possible for one man to break up the party.

Vice President Stevenson is the only taken the trouble to make a speech in New York. Mr. Stevenson, we believe, is a western democrat.

Mr. Nathan Straus went out at the back

Mr. T. J. Keenan, Jr., of The Pittsburg Press, is not only one of the most pro but he has done as much, if not more, for the promotion of scientific bicycling than any man in the state. His paper has taken a keen interest in all matters relating to bicycling, and the support of The Press has done much to popularize bicycling in Pennsylvania, where it is probably in more general use than in any state of the union. In appreciation of his services numerous 'cycling clubs in Pitteburg and throughout Pennsylvania are urging him for the responsible position of vice consul of the League of American Wheelmen for the Pennsylvania division. He is being actively supported by his many newspaper friends in all parts of the state, and, as he makes success of everything he undertakes, it is needless to say that he will do likewise this time. It is certain that the American Wheelmen could not secure a more active worker to represent the great state of Pennsylvania in its councils, or one who will do more for the practical advance of Mr. Keenan is well known in Atlanta, having visited the city last spring attending the annual convention of the International League of Press Clubs, of which he was the founder, and is still one of the most prominent members.

THE EXPOSITION.

From The Ringgold, Ga., New South. Next year Atlanta is to have the greatest exposition the southland has ever known. Your brainy body is composed of Georgians who are most interested in the Empire State of the South, and it lies within your power to show your loyalty, your pride and your ambition for the constituency that has sent you as their representatives.

Let some member, who is interested in this great exposition, introduce a resolution special committeeman in behalf of it, to see that his county is represented by a creditable exhibit when the gates of the mammoth fair swing open to admit the anxious throng who will have gathered from the four points of the compass to ook on and admire the displays. Every senator and every representative a this body of solons can do more to enthuse the people they represent in the advantage of having a creditable exhibit at this fair than could possibly be done through any other agency. Who will be the man to perpetuate him-self in the hearts of his countrymen by in-troducing this resolution which will be as binding as a pledge upon every member?

We are aware of the fact that the consti tution of the state will not permit of an appropriation for the exposition; but there is no clause which precludes the possibility of the unanimous execution of the scheme aggested by The Ringgold New S Without a further expenditure of words, gentlemen, we leave the suggestion with you for disposition, believing that you fully ze the responsibility wnich now rests with you.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

Telfair Enterprise: Georgia's solons will confer a great favor if they will cease ren-dering the code so voluminous by the pas-sage of so many worthless local bills. Half of them breed ten to one more litigation than they do good. Pass laws that tend to the commonweal, and if there are none of this character to be passed, adjourn and come home to your families. By so doing you will receive the welcome plaudit, "Well e, good and faithful servants."

Rome Tribune: Of course we have al ways had good men in the legislature, but so well as the present one. We believe some good and earnest work will be done this session, and we are sure the interests of the state are in splendid hands. There are some splendid men in the body and they

Cherokee Advance: We trust one of the first laws of the present legislature will be looking to the betterment of Georgia's school laws, and providing for funds with which to continue schools through the fall and spring months. That will be practical and needed legislation.

Athens Banner: If the legislature wishes to do the right thing it will heed the advice of Governor Northen and will vote a libera appropriation to the State Normal school and thereby greatly strengthen the commo school system of Georgia.

STATE SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

Professor Z. I. Fitzpatrick, superintendent of Quitman graded school, is a candidate for the office of state school commissioner. His application is backed by good endorsements. The Madison Advertiser says of him:

says of him:

"Professor Z. I. Fitzpatrick, of Quitman, is an applicant for the position of state school commissioner under Governor Atkinson. Mr. Fitzpatrick was reared in Morgan, where he has many warm friends, who would like to see him appointed. He is an able educator and would make us an excellent commissioner, being thoroughly conversant with educational affairs."

The Rome Tribune says of another candidate for state school commissioner:

"Rev. W. M. Bridges is now Floyd county's efficient school commissioner, and so well has he done the work, so earnessty has he applied himself, and so fruitful have been the results of his endeavors to improve the system, that it is no wonder those who know him and his labors insist upon his appointment as state school commissioner.

SOUTHERN NEWS NOTES.

In Hardin county, Kentucky, blo fulness as thief-catchers. A fellow by the name of Hawkins broke in the store of Mr. Henderson, at Rocky Hill station, Ed-monson county, and stole his cash register, expecting, no doubt, that he was carrying away a fortune. He demolished the reg-ister a short distance from the store and found only 50 cents in it. Mr. Henderson wired Marshal Neighbors to come down and being his hounds. The founds were wired Marshal Neighbors to come down and bring his hounds. The frounds were put on the trail, and they tracked Hawkins about five miles. Some nights ago James O'Leary, a youth, living at Milford, Lawrence county, Kentucky, dreamed that he fell out of a tree and received painful injuries. The dream so impressed him that he gave up for several days his occupation of chesnut gathering. Saturday last he went out again with some neighbor lads, and while in a tree a limb broke with him, precipitating aim to the ground, breaking an arm in such man-ner that that fatal results are feared.

In Floyd county, twenty miles from Prestonburg, Ky., oil has been struck in great abundance. From one well, which was abundance. From one well, which was struck last week, 30,000 gallons ran out in hours and six minutes. Excitemen runs high in that section. Of five wells which have been sunk, three of them are paying ones. Gas is also found in paying quantities.

"Pap" Key, well known throughout the city and the state, too, for that matter, as one of Georgia's baseball players, has turned his attention to wrestling and wants a go with some one who can do the act.

"Just say for me," said the man who has been doing the baseball act for many years, as he strode through the Kimball house corridor last night, "that I would like to meet any man in the country for a turn on the floor or grass. I will mix either in the Greco-Roman style or catch-as-catch-can. I ain't particular about the style. All I want is a chance for the wrestle, and I am sure that I can show that I can do the best of them. In fact, I am willing to bet a cool hundred that I can't be put down either way by any one in this neck of the woods. Just say that for me."

"Pryor street will be one of the pretties, driveways in the south in a few weeks," said a prominent citizen yesterday. "The vitrified brick paving is as smooth as slass, and one good feature of it is that vehicles passing over it make but little noise. I think it an excellent idea to extend the paving northward along Pryor street until the asphalt paving on Peachtree street is reached. The combining of these two streets would made a long and splendid driveway which the people of the city would appreciate. I hope that this matter will be brought before the council and worked up as it fore the council and worked up as it

"Ugly rumors live for years," said a mem-ber of the board of education yesterday af-ternoon. "Why, this week a rumor came to us that a most estimable lady, one of our very best teachers, was in the habit of sending out from school to a neighboring saloon for a pitcher of foaming beer. The rumor was repeated to several members of the board of education. The lady heard the board of education. The lady heard about it, and indignantly demanded an in vestigation. The board believed in her so strongly and were so confident that she was the victim of a malicious plot, that they refused to hear to an investigation. But the lady persisted and made the investigation on her own account. She put the matter before the board in order to square hereself, and it turned out that the rumor started three years before and was nothing more than a piece of spite work. You see the ugly story smouldered for a time, but was revived by some mean thinking person to do the lady an injustice. There is no more estimable lady in Atlanta than this and the board has more confidence than ever in her."

The Atlanta number of The Electrical Review, telling of the recent convention of the street railway men in this city, has many splendid things to say about Atlanta and its people. The Review says:

"Socially, no effort was spared to make the gathering a memorable one, and Atlan-ta's sons and daughters vied with each other in contributing to the entertainment of their guests. From the speech of wel-come by Governor Northen at the opening of the convention on Wednesday morning to the parting cheers which rang through the depot as the trains pulled out on Friday night, every moment not actually devoted to business was filled with social gayety.

"The recention at the Capital City Club a Wednesday night was a magnificent affair and the spacious rooms were crowded with the representative men and fairest women of the city. The banquet at the Kimball house and the typical Georgia bar-becue at Ponce de Leon park were also events long to be remembered.

"Atlanta is rapidly establishing her rep utation as the 'convention city of the south,' and that this distinction is fairly won and will be nobly upheld all those who lave been the recipients of her warm wel-come and open-handed hospitality will gla1-ly testify, and the street railway men most emphatically.

Colonel W. C. Gleen, who figured as the leading attorney in the Ballow case, before Judge Newman this week, is also the leading attorney for three of the alleged con-spirators in the Roper case. This is one of the most thrilling stories on record and the courtroom will no doubt be crowded during the progress of the trial. The case was set for a hearing on last Wednesday, but on account of the pending of the Ballew case and the illness of two materia ses, it was postponed until the 12th evember. Colonel Glenn is identified with much of the criminal business that is now transacted in the federal court and his reputation as a brilliant advocate is daily widening throughout the country.

He was not given a place, but takes his defeat in the proper spirit. "Some," said be, "are inclined to blame their failure to personal reasons. This should not be. All of us cannot get the same place and I am willing to wait for another trial."

A number of people advocate moral persuasion, but there is a hindrance to this. This must begin at the cradle, and if a boy is used to the rod at home, he will have to be kept under it for awhile at school. There is an old story about the twig being bent. It's not an easy matter to bring this gentler method into instantaneous use for the better."

"It's a pity," said a prominent citizen yesterday, "that all the clocks can't be run on the same time. The city clock and the old capitol clock and Stevens's clock and Freeman's clock—all of them manage to keep several minutes apart. I don't know which is correct, so I go by my watch, which keeps time with none of them. Then, there's railroad time, which is another schedule of clock time."

Dr. Ernst L. von Halle, a divinguished German economist, is in Atlanta for a few days stopping at the Kimball house. Dr. von Halle is traveling through the United States on a tour of personal investigation of the social and industrial conditions of this country. He is a distinguished German student and comes to Atlanta with letters from prominent Americans. He has never visited the south before rud expreases himself as well pleased with Atlanta. He came by way of Savannah, where he was entertained by General A. R. Lawton, and stopped a few days in Macon on his way to Atlanta. From here he will go to Montgomery, and before returning will visit all the important cities of the south.

"This is the best time in all the year to visit the mountains," said Joe Brown, Jr., yesterday as he climbed upon the platform of a departing train on the Western and Atlantic railroad. "This is the season when the Blue Ridge shows off to best advantage and the woods are full of squirrels and game. One can enjoy a little trip to the hills along the Etowah more in October than in any other month in the year. It is the finest and best part of Georgia, and I am of the opinion that there is not a more delectable land in all the world than is north Georgia in the golden days of autumn."

"Atlanta is a delightful place to visit." said Mr. John Bone, of Augusta, yesterday, "and we fellows from the lowlands always love to come here. There is a charm about the dash and plucky ways of Atlanta that is perfectly charming, but there is one thing among others we can down your city on-pretty streets. For several hours yesterday, from early in the afternoon until long after dark, the democrats of the greeral assembly were in secret caucus naming their nominees for the judicial positions in the gift of this

The galleries and floor of the house were cleared of all at democratic assemblymen, and the exectant throng which expected to be called opes. The question of opening the gallery doors and admitting the members of the press to their desks was discussed in the caucus for some time, but finally the friends of secrecy prevailed.

The waiters on the outside did not miss much of the fun. The result of each ballot promptly found its way to them, and each victory was followed by the cheers of enthusiastic friends of the victor.

The ticket is excellent throughout. The friends and admirers of Judge Marshall J. Clarke, not only here in Atlanta but throughout the state, will regret the failure to place him on the supreme bench, but the gentleman chosen-Judge Spencer R. Atkinson-is one of the ablest and most brilliant young Georgians, and will doubtless be a magnificent supreme court justice. In the results the prophets were not very greatly surprised. Some of the contests were very close, others not so much so, but all of them interesting.

For the Supreme Bench. The presenting of the names of candidates was a simple ceremony-simply the announcement by some one friend and no

There were four nominees for the associate justiceship-Hon. Spencer R. Atkinson of Glynn, Hon. Marshall J. Clarke of Fulon, Hon. I. E. Shumate of Whitfield, and Hon. Joseph Ganahl of Richmond. It was thought that Judge Atkinson would have a ead on the first ballot, but the friends of the other candidates believed that there would be more than one ballot. The Tellapeess Circuit.

In this there were contests over the indgeship and solicitorship. Judge C. J. Janes, of Polic, the present incumbent, was opposed by Hon. L. R. Ray, of Douglas. The ballot, had not proceeded far before Colonel Ray's name was withdrawn.

Hon. W. T. Roberts, of Douglas, was blictor General Richardson's opponent, ad won, receiving the votes to 58 for Mr. R. hardson.

The Plint Circuit.

Tree ballots were processary to choice beto. Hon. Marcus Beck became the caucus iminee for judge of the Flint circuit. The children were Hon. John J. Hunt, of Spaiding; Hon. Marcus Beck, of Butts, and Hon. T. Y. Allen, of Upson.

On the first ballot Mr. Beck had 69, Mr. Hunt 55, and Mr. Allen 36.

On the second ballot both Beck and Hunt increased, the result being Beck 80, Hunt increased, the result being Beck 80, Hunt 68, and Allen 12.

Mr. Allen's name was dropped and this ballot resulted, Beck $2, Hunt 68.

The Western Circuit.

Judge Hutchins is his own successor.

He was opposed by Hon. J. J. Strickland, a brilliant attorney of Clarke, but the judge won by a good margin, his vote being 92 to 69 for Mr. Strickland.

The Opmalizer Circuit.

The Ocmulgee Circuit.

In some respects the most notable contest of all was that in the Ocmulgee circuit. This attracted very general attention on account of the prominence and popularity of the three contestants—all able gentlemen. It was the general prediction that several ballots would be taken before a choice would be reached. In this respect the prophets were given a surprise, however.

The first bailot cettled it. Hon. John C. Hart, of Greene, received 86 votes; Hon. Joseph S. Turner, of Putnam, received 44 votes, and Hon. Frank Chambers, of Wilkinson, received 32 votes.

The Southwestern Circuit. The solicitorship of the Southwestern circuit brought out the last contest. It was between Hon. James M. Dupree, of Macon county, and Hon. Joseph B. Hudson, of Sumter. The ballot resulted: Dupree, 94; Hudson, 66.

The inception of the movement in this city, its growth and discouragements and the various difficulties that have risen in its path were fully discussed to the pleasure, as well as the information of all present. It was stated among other things of interest, that Atlanta was the pioneer in this movement among the southern states and that her influence in the Christian work among railroad men was felt throughout among railroad men was felt throughout this entire section of the country. Mr. C. J. Hicks, the international secre-

the amount of energy and determination she intended to put into the work. President W. S .Bell, of the Young Men's Christian Association, was present and made an excellent talk. He was given the most careful nursing and attention by those around him and yesterday telegrams and letters came to his family notifying them that he was convalescing. This will be pleasant information for the many friends of the young man.

Year after year he has given his time and talent to the work of the Master in whose cause he enlisted cearly in life. When not engaged in the pulpit his work was that of a teacher, and from the schoolroom and the editorial desk he has instructed many of the most learned men of the state. Several weeks ago he was slezed with an illness which has baffled the skill of his family physicians, and of the best medical men of the city. Gradually he has grown worse, and within the past few days about all hopes of his recovery have been abandoned by those about him. So desperate was his condition that the absent members of his family were summoned by wire to his bedside.

Sixty-eight years of life have been given the doctor, and more than two-thirds of that has been devoted by him to the cause he loves so dearly. Of late years he has been one of the most industrious and entertaining writers of The Chirstian Index, and his illness alone carried him away from his duties on that paper. Dr. Branham is the father of Mrs. Lane, wife of Professor Lane, of the Technological school; Mrs. Frank Means, of Houston county; Professor A. I. Branham, superintendent of public instruction, of Brunswick, Ga.; Mr. I. R. Branham, Jr., of Atlanta; Mrs. Laps Walker, of The Chattanoga News, and Mr. R. L. Branham, chief clerk of the supply department of the Brunswick and Western railroad.

A life full of userdiness and good work closes when Dr. Branham passes to the call of his Master.

CHECKS CAME BACK.

A Young Man Arrested for Presenting Two False Checks Yesterday.

IS PRESIDENT OF A BIG COMPANY

Committed Before Judge Landrum and Is Sent to Jail in Default of Bond. Guarded Last Night

W. C. Durand, a rather nice looking young man who says that he is president of the New England Phosphate Company of Ocala, Fla., was placed in Fulton county jail yesterday.

He was brought from Justice Landrum's court heavily handcuffed and in charge of two bailiffs who had just listened to the preliminary hearing, resulting in his being committed for trial as a "common cheat and swindler."

The circumstances leading up to the arrest of Durand are queer and will stamp him fther as a crook or a gentleman who is the victim of his own careless business methods. His recent actions, however, seem to indicate that his business qualifications are woefully wanting.

Saturday afternoon last the young man pushed himself through the throng up Whitehall street and entered the store of Whitehall street and entered the store of the Eads-Neel Company. He was met at the door by Mr. F. H. Kirkpatrick, who wanted to know if he could be waited on. "No," replied the man, "I don't want, any goods. My name is Durand and I am from Ocala, Fla., where I am engaged in the phosphate business. I wish a check cashed for a small amount and I am going to ask you to favor me."

you to favor me."

As he said this the man pulled a check book from his pocket and showed a certificate of deposit in the First National bank of Ocala for $500. The stub on the book showed that he had been drawing numerous checks on the same bank and it was this that led Mr. Kirkpatrick to endorse the check and have it cashed. It called for $25. The man was pleasant in his address and The man was pleasant in his address and his gentlemanly manner caused no suspicion of wrong doing. In fact, so impressed was Mr. Kirkpatrick with the man that later in the afternoon when he appeared again the clerk agreed to endorse another check for

The checks were duly forwarded and noth ing was thought of the matter until Wednes-day morning when they were returned to Mr. Kirkpatrick with the remark: "No money on deposit here," written on the backs. Having endorsed the checks the young man was personally responsible and he was surprised at the refusal to cash them. He also received a telegram from Cashler E. W. Agnew saying that no man of that name had a deposit at the First National Guarded All Night. Mr. Kirkpatrick felt that he was the victim of a sharper and began to investigate. He located Durand at the Markham and Thursday morning a warrant was taken out against him for cheating and swindling. Bailiff Payne went out to make the arrest. He found the man incased in a pair of blankets apparently asleep. He was aroused and shown the warrant. The balliff was in-formed by Durand that he was unable to accompany him as he was ill and had been suffering for several days.

The bailiff replied that he regretted the sad necessity that forced him to remain, but it was his duty to stay there until his prisoner was well enough to travel up to court. Thus it was that during the whole afternoon and throughout the night Bailiff Payne sat there in a rocking chair guarding the man while he suffered and slept. Durand was much better yesterday morning, and although very sick, walked over to the justice's court, where Mr. Kirkpatrick was waiting to testify against him. From the evidence Justice Landrum decided that he was guilty of cheating and swindling, committing him for trisi on a bond for $100. This Durand was unable to give and he was carried to jail.

Prince Albert style, and a light slouch hat was pulled down over his eyes. He was pacing the floor nervously and seemed very pale from his recent sickness.

"I am a sick man, now," he said, "and it is an outrage to take me up and place me in jail like this. I have done nothing criminal and I intend to see that some one suffers for this."

At first Durant refused to say anything about the affair for which he was arrested, but his wrath over confinement apparently waxed warm and he gave a full account of the affair.

waxed warm and he gave a full account of the affair.

"I am from Ocala, Fia.," he said, "and for the last month or two have been travelling up north. I have been to nearly all the large cities and have had no trouble until I reached this place.

"I can't understand why the checks I gave in were returned. I should have had a deposit at the bank. I am interested in a phosphate company, of which I am the principal owner and manager. My father-inlaw has a half interest in the company also.

"When I left home I told a clerk in the office to transfer the amount of the company's deposit in bank to my personal account so that I could draw on it when I wished to. I supposed that he had done this as I have drawn checks on the bank during my absence. I drew one while in Chattanooga for $50.

"Saturday night I got those checks cashed on Whitehall street for $50, and I was surprised when I went back there Wednesday morning to get another one cashed to find that they had been sent back. For some days I have been expecting a remittance from my father-in-law."

The man said that he had no friends in Atlanta and had no money to communicate with his home people. He appeared to be very indignant over his treatment.

A Queer Coincidence. It is a rather queer coincidence that the false check which was returned to the Eads-Neel Company was returned by the same bank upon which the bogus checks of Mrs. Hicken were drawn when she called at the Hicken were drawn when she called at the store some months ago. It was Cashler E. W. Agnew, of the First National bank of Ocala, that first notified the firm that the checks were worthless. He was the first man this time to stamp those of Durand false. The theshold of the Eads-Neel Company seems to be the dead line for all Florida crooks.

Durand was given the liberty of the front rooms in the jail yesterday afternoon. At night he was removed and given a cell in the rear portion, where most of the prisoners are confined. He was visited there by Dr. Stiles, who has been attending him since his sickness. Durand says that he will be able to communicate with his relatives today and will give bond.

But He Said Nay, and Got a Verdict of Not Guilty-The Criminal Court Adjourned Early. The refusal of a prisoner yesterday morning to take the advice offered by his attorneys prevented him from serving three years or more in the penitentiary on the charge of larceny from the house.

The negro was Henry Sasseen, and with him, indicted for burglary in the same instance, was Cliff King, who also refused to be advised and was released on a verdict of not guilty. The story is very nearly startling in its decidedly unusual features. In the run of the morning's business yesterday, Solicitor Hill called the cases of Henry Sasseen and Cliff King, indicted for burglary. The attorneys for the two were L. J. Glenn and W. W. Gay. They stated to the court and to Solicitor Hill that their clients desired to plead guilty and asked that the sentences be made out accordingly. The plea was to be for larceny from the

The first prisoner, Sasseen, was brought into court and asked by Judge Clark if he desired to plead guilty, as stated by his attorneys, to larceny from the house.

Sasseen was apparently very much shocked. Plead guilty! He hadn't thought of such a thing, he said. Not a bit of it. He was innocent of any crime and intended was innocent of any crime and intended to plead not guilty to the charge of bur-glary, so he declared. This was decidedly uncomfortable for the attorneys. They both stated that they had understood that Sasseen wanted to plead guilty to larceny from the house; that he had, in fact, told them he wanted to plead guilty and that he had been advised to so plead.

This was unexpected, but the case went to trial. Defended by the very lawyers who had advised him to plead guilty to a minor offense. Sasseen was found not guilty of burglary. King was given a verdict. Charles Smith, a negro, was convicted of larceny from the house and sentenced to six months in the chaingang. Will Foster,

An order has been issued by the sheriff refusing admittance to the ladies who come to rusing admittance to the ladies who come to the jail on Sunday afternoon for the pur-pose of holding prayer services. This action, so Mr. Barnes states, is prompted by the risk incurred by the crowds going in and out of the cells. It was put in force last Sunday, and many ladies ent away disappointed and mad.

"This action of the sheriff was necessi ry," sald Jailer Mardis yesterday afternoon "You see the ladies come here, and have been coming here on Sunday afternoons in droves. One Sunday I admitted at least eighty. If they would all come together it would not matter, but the constant coming in and going out makes us run a great risk Some of the inmates might escape. We have some desperate criminals in here now and they would resort to anything to get out. We have taken great risk heretofore. It is not because the sheriff objects to the religious meeting. the only thing that prompts his action."

THEY WANT THE PLACE.

Candidates Showing Up for the Place of Janitor Seab Osburn. The death of Mr. Seab Ozburn, who was for many years janitor of the county courthouse, has produced a number of seekers for that place. For years Mr. Ozburn was janitor of the courthouse, in fact it was he who held that position from the time the position was created up to the time of his death with a single exception. The place, though not a snap, is one which does not carry the hardest work with it and more than once the board of county commissioners found some one applying for the place when the election time came around. But so well had Mr. Ozburn done his work that the board always returned him, each re-election being a decided endorsement of the work of his term. The death of Mr. Ozburn coming as it did just before the time for election has brought out candidates who would not have been in the race had he lived. The place pays a good snug salary and among those who are seeking the next term are Captain W. A. Starnes, once a member of the police force; Mr. Cheshire, who has been in the mercantile business, and Mr. G. W. Beavers, who was in the coal and wood business for a long time on Wheat street. There are in all probability other candidates for the place, but so far these are all who have shown up in the race. They are all well known throughout the city and each has a strong backing. The indica-tions are that the race will be a strong, sondon Sold St. Paul, but a Local Firm Bought-Stocks Closed Steady-Wheat Closed a Shade Over Yesterday. The cotton market appears to be waiting for something, but what that something is will have to be explained to the outside speculator more plainly than the present

The one thing that puzzles the speculator at the moment is that everybody that ought to know says cotton is low enough. Yet, as they watch the posting of the quotations day after day and there is no material advance they see that an improve-ment of over 20 points from present low prices can only be accomplished by the most skillful manipulators who, as soon as they have secured the desired profit, unload and leave those who are friendly to the staple to bear the loss which follows. In nearly every instance a new low record is made on the closing out of the manipula-tive element, and they are at a loss to w what keeps cotton down.

The action of the cotton market vesterday was puzzling to traders, inasmuch a indications favored an advance, and while the market declined during the forenoon, it was of a stubborn character and amounted to only 8 points.

The highest point of the day on January was touched immediately after the opening, after which the decline to the lowest point was made which, at about 11 o'clock, was 5.57.

During the afternoon a much steadier tone prevailed, and the advance continued up to the close which was steady at 5.62 bid for January, with sales of 118,900 bales.

Spots in New York were dull and unchanged at 5%c for middling.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Preparing for a Vigorous Bear Campaign Against the Coalers.

York, October 26.-There was a falling off in business today at the stock exchange, the total sales having amounted to 84,000 shares against 91,006 shares yester-day. Speculation opened steady and then an improvement in the railway list followed. The gain made, however, was unimportant, ranging from ½ to ¾ per cent. London was a seller of St. Paul during the first hour, but a local firm took 5,000 shares of the stock, and this neutralized the for-eign liquidation. The stock was taken, it is said, for a prominent bear who has quit the Grangers for the high-priced Coal-ers. The latter were again weak and lower. The bears appear to be feeling their way in their issues, preparatory to a vigorous can paign later, which was based on the de moralization in coal prices, which, they anticipate will follow the policy of unlim-ited production. They are proceeding cau-tiously, however, as their experience in this group of late years has been anything but pleasant. New Jersey Central declined 2% to 102% and rallied to 103%@103%; Delaware and Hudson dropped 2½ to 125%, recovered to 126% and closed at 126; Lackawanna fell 1% to 182% and Reading % to 184,06%. The sales of these stocks were 16,600 shares. Manhattan, after advancing 3\(to 107\), fell to 105\(t\) and recovered to 106\(\theta \)
106\(t\). In the afternoon, Northwest was run down 1\(t\) to 102\(t\), and some doubt was expressed as to the ability of the company to pay its usual dividends of 3 per cent at the close of the year. Very little attention was paid to the rumor in usually well to was paid to the rumor in usually well-in-formed quarters for the reason that the bears have been predicting the same thing about every prominent road in the country ever since the business depression set in. Financial Gossip.

From The New York Stockholder. While sentiment Wednesday was rather bullish, being based on a prospective republican victory, actual developments were more unfavorable than of late. Especially is this true of earnings, as reported for the second and third week of October. St. Paul's in the latter period decreased $247,-595. The week was one of the poorest that road has experienced. Comparing the figures issued yesterday with those of 1892 the result is a loss last week of $159,000. Taking 1891 and the loss the past week was $150,000. Atchison's decrease of $176,910 for the second week of October, 1894, is even a more discouraging showing than that of the St. Paul for the third, as business and earnings a year ago on that system were greatly contracted. In both cases, however, the adverse condi-tion of agriculture is reflected. On the one hand is the crop failure; on the other 5-cent cotton and 50-cent wheat. Moreover, in ex-plenation of the decreasing earnings the falling off in grain tonnage must not be

W.. 19,000 1,238,000 33,000 554,000 It will be seen that the Chicago deliveries of each road were far less than in the corresponding period of last year. Burlington had the enormous decrease of 3,377,00 bush els, as might be expected following the crop disaster in its territory. Northwest is second in the list of heavy decreases-2,660.000 bushels; St. Paul third, 1,692,000; Rock Island fourth, 1,621,000.

Now, taking are roads both delivering at Chicago and Milwaukee and it will be seen that the Northwest had a total decrease at these points in three weeks of over three and a quarter million bushels, St. Paul a decrease of a little over three millions. Such figures go farther towards accounting for reduced earnings than fallacious arguments based on the world's fair.

Yesterday's car movement not only showed no improvement, but at Chicago there was a falling off. Only 325 cars came, including the three important cereals, against 632 the day before and 670 on the corre-sponding day last year, while receipts of 1893.

Tennessee Conl and Iron.

From The Wall Street Journal.

We learn that one of the prominent directors of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company has resigned and that stock held by him and his friends has been coming on the market. The reason given for the resignation is that a change was desired.

An official says that the financial condition of the company is satisfactory. All bills are being paid and notes are being provided for as fast as they come due. Payment of November coupons will be advertised today. The company has sold ahead about 150,000 tons of iron, and is mining 8,000 to 9,000 tons of coal a day. It is making about 9,000 tons of iron a week. Nine furnaces are in operation out of seventeen, which is an increase of two within ten days. He says that nothing in the company's condition should cause any alarm among holders of the company's securities. Tennessee Conl and Iron.

New York, October 26.—It was a feverish market, but for all that it closed higher by 264 points, and the tone at the clase was steady with sales of 118,900 bales. There was less pressure to sell on the part of the south, as a whole, though at one time New Orleans sent some selling orders which helped to give prices a set back. The early trading was at an advance of 4 points, due mainly to a rise in Liverpool. Then came a reaction in which the early advance was lost and 364 points besides, owing to local and New Orleans selling, together with pretty good receipts at the ports and some of the interior towns, but the loss was regained and the market wound up at a small advance. Cooler weather was predicted for Texas. Alabams, Mississippi and Arkan-Stevens & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Hubbard Price & Co's. Cotton Letter.

New York, October 28.—Summary Hubbard, Price & Co.'s cotton letter: The new feature in our market today has not been the steadiness of Liverpool, for that was to have been expected as a result of the temporary withholding of offers from the south, but the fact that this interruption in the pressure to sell brought buying orders from the continent, causing this market to open steady at 2 to 3 points higher than last evening, but the feeling here and, in fact, throughout the entire cotton trade, still remains so bearish that local traders and New Orleans merchants sold freely and caused a decline to nearly the lowest prices of the year. From this point there was a recovery and the market at 1 o'clock was a shade firmer. The market closed steady at a shade better than last night's pricer and again presents a stronger phase than for some time. Since the last reaction the selling in the market has not been of a character that ordinarily presages a decline.

Riordan & Co's. Cotton Letter.

New York, October 26.—(Special.)—Under the influence of a better Liverpool market and rather moderate receipts, the market opened higher, the first sales of January being at 5.65. The usual duliness and dearth of business followed, and January sagged to 5.57, but in the last hour, when some of the shorts wished to cover, no sellers could be found, and prices hardened to the extent of 5 points above the lowest. The close was steady with 5.62 bid for January. Though the bears still profess to be sure of lower prices, the confidence of the friends of cotton is gradually increasing, and unless receipts should continue very large a sudden

From The Wall Street Journal.

A decidedly quiet market prevails in all departments. Business conditions on spot disclose some improvement, but the demand through the mails and by telegraph is far below the recent averages. Reports from buyers in European markets state that the change in our tariff will enable them to precure rich effects at lower prices than heretofore. Business for next spring continues to drag, and when questioned about new prices, merchants generally agree that they will vary little from those of last spring. The movement forward of all lines was more restricted than usual to small prices.

The disorganized industrial situation in all mill centers, and especially in the east, restrains buyers taking anything above actual and urgent requirements. Stocks are for the most part in good condition, but the absence of a good reorder demand may mean a heavier carrying over than was expected. The relapse in the general market does not interfere with collections. In fact, merchants say that it is the most favorable feature and that they have nothing to complain about on that score.

The Mill Situation.

Fall River special.—Four mills closed yesterday and the Manufacturers' Association may vote for an absolute shut down for an indefinite period at a meeting this afternoon. It is stated on good authority that the owners are not disposed to abide by the decision of the arbitration committee, and, on the other hand, the weavers say that they will not work at the reduction. At this writing the weavers are forming a procession that will march all over the city. It is agreed that the situation grows hourly more serious.

Very few looms are in operation, and it is rumored that several more mills close for an indefinite period tonight.

Boston special.—The Advertiser's Fall River special says stockholders of the Granite mills yesterday voted to pass the quarterly dividend. The company earned about $52,000 for the year. The annual report of the Wampanoag mills showed a profit of nearly $56,000 on $750,000 capital. The Mill Situation.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, October 26.—The business in wheat today was c? the sort that is usually seen when there is a scarcity of news and a lack of interest. It was the kind that stamps the trade with the mark of unimportance. Although principally local there was nevertheless some outside interest exhibited, New York doing a little buying. One prominent bear operator uid a moderate amount of covering, his transactions in the light of the inactivity prevailing being conidered somewhat of a feature, as they were of sufficient proportion to sustain prices and the holders of calls contributed enough wheat to check any prospective advance. December wheat opened from 52% to 52%c, sold between 52% and 52%c, closing a shade over yesterday at 52%c, and closed throughout the balance of the day, the pit bearing the appearance of absolute desertion at times. May corn opened at 49%c, sold between 50c and 49%c and closed at 49%49%c, a slight fraction higher than yesterday. Cash corn was ½c per bushel higher.

The market for oats today was not under the influence of heavy selling such as was seen during the earlier portion of the week. It is believed that very nearly, if not all, of the oats held by the blind pool or syndicate, as it is called, which was mentioned yesterday, had gone overboard. There was less pressure to sell. Prices held their own today, the firmness in wheat and corn market and in the prices settled down. It was said that the firm and ¼c per bushel higher.

Lamson Bro's & Co.'s Grain Letter.

By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager. Chicago, October 26.—Wheat opened steady and higher with free buying by noted local shorts who were covering their sales of yesterday at lower figures. The market was fairly active during the first hour, but became very quiet as the session wore on. It is devoid of features and operators are apparently waiting for something to turn up. Prices were held firm, however, though no encouragement came from seaboard clearances, which were about 187,000 bushels of wheat and flour. Northwestern receipts of 803 cars were sowewhat smaller, while the demand from millers continues and it is only at a good premium that supplies are secured. The popular feeling inclines to the long side, which is supported by the low price and cable reports of higher markets and better demand abroad.

Corn—There was a fair demand for May corn at the opening. Shippers were the best bidders; scalpers sold. The market was held steedy early on rains in the central states, but eased off slightly on the more held steedy early on rains in the central states, but eased off slightly on the more liberal receipts—170 cars—tomorrow. No decline was scored, the feeling being too strong and offerings are unusually light. Closing cables were firm at a slight advance.

Closing cables were firm at a slight advance.

The heavy liquidation that has taken place in the oat market the past two days appears to be over. The market today has been firm throughout. The market today has been firm throughout. The opening was at about the close of yesterday, which proved the low point. The market was fairly active early, but has been no exception to the rule, and for the main part the session has been extremely dull. The decline of the past few days seems to have put the market in a more healthy condition, and with any little encouragement prices would rule at a much higher range. Transactions today have been confined to scalping orders, though shippers have bought some.

Provisions have suffered another big. slump, particularly pork, which has declined 32%c from yesterday's close. Outside holders becoming disgusted, started liquidations and at the weakness displayed everybody had provisions for sale with the above result. The market was exceedingly weak at the decline, though packers bought a little at the bottom, and the close was barely steady with prices a shade over low point.

SEWANEE WAS HERE YESTERDAY

The Technological School Team Left for Savannah Last Night-Two Good Games Expected.

The long-haired footballists invaded Atlanta yesterday morning.

The season of football training has been practically concluded and now the longhaired heroes of the gridiron are given ample opportunity for the testing of strength and skill.

Interest has never before been so marked as it is just now at the opening of the period for actual play, and every college in the south which has any athletic aspirations has all of its hopes centered in the approaching contests.

Here in the south the games between the leading teams will be ushered in with that between the University of North Caro-line and Sewanee, which takes place in Asheville this afternoon. The 7 o'clock train from Nashville yesterday morning had rather an interesting crew. The Sewanee team, which attracted no little at-tention during the hour spent in Atlanta, reached here yesterday morning at 7 o'clock. The Sewanee men were strikingly ath-letic, and with their huge sweaters caught the eyes of those about them. The boys were given a very cordial greeting by their many friends in the city. All of the Sewanee boys expressed themselves as greatly disappointed at not having succeeded in arranging a game with Auburn for this place on November 3d. Sewanee has a considerable following in Atlanta and it is a source of much regret that they will be unable to appear on the gridiron here this very pleasant smile all the while as if to indicate his confidence in his men, but with all of this he has no hope of defeating the giants of the Tar Heel State. Sewanee in fact, enters the contest badly handi-capped, as this will be her first game, North Carolina has played and with good teams at Under such unfavorable circumstances Sewanee will do well if she manages to score, at the same time holding her opponents down to a respectable num-

To Play in Athens Monday. Sewanee will play the University of Georgia in Athens on Monday—a game in which the championship of the state will be at stake, with the odds in favor of Tennessee. Until this season the Athens men have been backward in the line of athletics, but this year witnesses marked progress at the university in the Rugby game. Mr. Win-ston, of Yale, by constant drilling, has at last succeeded in equipping a creditable team and the game on Monday will be sharp and full of interest. The lineup of the two teams will be as

Atlanta Will Play Savannah Today. The Technological school football team left last night for Savannah, where the team will go up against the Savannah Ath-letic Society eleven. The Techs are rather lighter, and will have to do no small amount of energetic playing to overcome this very serious handicap. The average weight of the team is only 140. The game will take place this afternoon and will doubtless be close and exciting to a degree. There were a number of the Took school between a number of the Tech school boys at the nion depot and they gave their representa-

CAPTAIN AMOS BAKER IS CLERK After the First of the Month the Captain Will Be on Hand. Captain Amos Baker, the stout, healthy, genial captain of the Atlanta Zouaves, will be found at police headquarters every day after the 1st of next month, when police court is in session.

By virtue of the authority vested in him

By virtue of the authority vested in him by the city charter, Hon. Park Woodward, clerk of the city council, yesterday appointed Captain Baker cierk to the police court, in place of Mr. Ernest Looney, who has been clerk to that court since the days of Jud Glenn. The position is one full of hard work and requires the constant application of the occupant and those who are acquainted with Captain Baker know that he will make a good man for the place. The change was not made on account of any inability on the part of Mr. Looney.

rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health or the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevere and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and mee, with the approval of the medical productor, because it acts on the Kiddeys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manfactured by the California Fig Syrup Granty, whose name is printed on every Polage, also the mane. Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

A NEGRO'S DEED.

Two Football Games of Local Interest | The Fiendish Attempt of a Negro to Assault a Little School Girl.

APPROACH OF A HAND CAR SAVED HER

Wild Excitement Among the People of the Neighborhood Yesterday—Searching Parties Scour the Woods.

The quiet town of Bolton was all astir yesterday and that section of the country just beyond the Chattahoochee was wild with excitement.

About dark Thursday afternoon the thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. Matt Griggs section master between Atlanta and Bolton, was met by a large negro who attempted to assault her. Her screams and the approach of a hand car, frightened him away and caused him to flee. The alarm was given and searching parties formed. Yesterday a negro girl who was said to have been with the man at the time he met his intended victim was arrested. It was his intended victim was arrested. It was found that she knew nothing about the negro or his crime and she was released. Section Master Griggs lives about seven miles from Atlanta. Mt. Vernon church is scarcely a mile from his house, and a schoolhouse is in the grove environment.

schoolhouse is in the grove surrounding the church. It was to this school that the lit-tle gfril went every day. Early Thursday morning she left home and remained at the school until nearly 6, o'clock in the after-noon. When school was dismissed she left with a number of her playmates and start-ed out with her books in hand for home. The children played by the way, and it was rather late when the girl reached the rail-road where she separated from her com-panions to make her way homeward alone. After leaving the rest of the children she nad gone only a short distance down the road when she was accosted by a large negro man who stepped out of the woods bordering the track. The man asked her name. The little girl was too frightened to speak, and before she could realize it the negro had grabbed her about the neck and was dragging her into the woods. The strong fingers about her throat prevented her from screaming. She was pulled helplessly into the woods a short distance and thrown upon her face. As he relaxed his grip the girl began to scream loudly. At this junc-

The screams of the girl and the noise of the approaching car freightened the brute and he dashed off into the woods. Some of the crew had heard the screams, and when the car was stopped ran to the place. The gle and the fingers of the negro had left marks on her throat. Several of the men started out at once in pursuit and the rest, with the girl, boarded the car and went at a rapid gait to the settlement. Mr. Griggs was notified at once. With quick determination he organized searching parties, and the squads of men scattered in every direction. A pack of hounds was sent for and took the trail at once. The dogs ran only a short distance, however, and after crossing a small branch, failed to go any farther. In the meantime the people for some distance had heard of the attempt, and for several miles the woods were thoroughly covered. The negro had concealed himself well, and no sign of his whereabouts could be gained. At right all of the negro railroad hands were surrounded and were carried before the girl. But she could identify no one and they were released. The search continued all night.

Just beyond the scene of the attempt the section gang whose appearance caused the negro's flight had noticed a colored girl. She was thought to have been with the ne she was thought to have been with the ne-gro at the time he met the girl and it was for that reason that she was arrested yes-terday morning by one of the county police. The girl insisted that she knew nothing about the occurrence. She said that she was from Anniston, and was on her way to see her mother who lived near Clark university. The officers were satisfied that she knew nothing, and afterwards let her go.

There was great excitement around the country yesterday when the affair became generally known and that part of the country between the Chattahoochee and Bolton was thoroughly covered. The brute made good his escape but Section Master Griggs and the officers have not yet given up the search andhop e yet to locate him.

AT THE THEATERS.

Thomas Q. Seabrooke is all that his friends claim for him as a fun producer and in "The Isle of Champaigne" he has an opera which gives his talents wide scope. It was seen here last year and proved a great favorite, as the big house proved a great favorite, as the big house which greeted it last night attests. The company is a large one and includes practically the same people as were in the cast last year. In every detail the production is fully up to any comic opera production ever seen here. Mr. Seabrooke is a "sufficient" comedian with a great big S. He is very amply seconded by charming Elvia Crox, Walter Aljen and a number of other very capable people.

At the matinee today and at tonight's performance Mr. Seabrooke will be seen in his new opera, "Tabasco." This is by the author of "1492" and is said to be very funny. Seabrooke's role, that of the chef, is said to be the funniest which he has had. His famous, "Swim Out O'Grady," is one of the hits of the year.

"1492" Coming.

"1492" Coming.

The great metropolitan success, Rice's surprise party in "1492," is coming Monday and Tuesday to the Grand.

This operatic extravaganza enjoyed the phenomenal run of 495 nights in New York city, closing at the Garden theater some few weeks ago. This company is said to be fully up to the original. It numbers 100 people, including its own orchestra, and the scenery and mechanical and electrical paraphrenalia require an extra car for its transportation. "1492" deals with the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus and permits of the introduction of the most elaborate scenic display. The music is sweet and pretty and abounds in catchy tunes that are bound to become popular. There are the most novel specialties and ballets. Some idea of the completeness of the production can be gained from the fact that the stage of the Grand is being wired for 500 extra incandescent lights, which form a part of the electrical effects in this magnificent production.

The specialties were all up-to-date. The singing of Mr. H. Guy Woodward, who is a clever comedian, was a feature of the performance.

This afternoon "La Belle Margurite," the new operatic comedy of the little star, will be given at the matinee. Tonight "Little Miss Mischief" will be the bill.

The Greatest Day Yet in Point of Attendance.

THE MANAGERS ARE HIGHLY JUBILANT

er the Great Success of Their Fair, Held in Hard Times and Under Many Adverse Circumstances.

Macon, Ga., October 26.—(Special.)—The big crowd that is to make the Dixie fair the greatest success of any exposition ever held in Macon, has about got here. At least there is a noticeable increase in the number of visitors today over yesterday. Today seems more like a representative day at a big exposition, for there is more life on the grounds and more to be seen in the exhibition halls. The day is being marked by no particular formalities, but everybody is just enjoying themselves in the fullest and taking in the sights in the long exhibition halls in one constant throng of anxious spectators.

"Drummers' Day" has been set again for next Thursday, when it is hoped that more of the fraternity will be in the city to participate with the local knights in a grand banquet at one of the halls up town. There will be a parade in the morning in the principal streets and down to the fair grounds. The officers of the local association will see to it that all their brethren have an enjoyable time.

The midway plaisance has been hit a hard blow. One of its chief and most sensational attraction, "The Nautch Girl," has been closed up and a lot of fun for the boys has been spoiled. The most prom-iment and influential people who have at-tended the fair objected to this show from the first and indignantly branded it as indecent. The matter was taken to the executive committee of the fair association and they made a personal examination into the proprieties or improprieties of it. The result was that these gentlemen, three in number, walked quietly around to the "Nautch girl's" tent last night and shut the thing down. It created quite a little stir on the plaisance for a while, for the rumor had been spread over the fair grounds about 9 o'clock that the police were going to pull the place. This done, the committeemen went around to the other places of similar pattern and called the pretty dancers down on some of their most accomplished and brilliant feats. So that now the midway is not as bad as it used to be, though some people say that the changes which have been made and the modifications that have been ordered have not materially altered any of the

Dr. Monk's Work.

Dr. Alonzo Monk, the fearless Methodist preacher who has been attracting a good deal of attention throughout the state by his recent sermons in Mulberry Street church, is constantly on the grounds in consultation with the police officers and other authorities who can furnish him data. It is understood that he will give his experience and what he saw and found out on the midway, at Mulberry Street church next Sunday. One thing certain is that the doctor has his pencil and notebook and is loading up for some purpose.

To return to matters that more particularly concern the fair, the machinery exhibit started up in full blast today and is now working in the north end of the main building, first floor. It is complete in every feature now and is one of the chief attractions among the exhibits. Mallory Bros. & Co. and Talbott Sons occupy almost the entire end of the building in their display of machinery, and it is cer-tainly a most creditable showing they make of all improved and latest patented machinery, cotton gins, etc.

Magleton & Porter, candy manufac-turers, have a brilliant display about the center of the main building down stairs. This exhibit is in charge of Miss Minnie Rusk, one of the most beautiful and de-lightful young ladies in the hall. It is a place where all visitors stop for a passing

The Races at the Park.

The Races at the Park.

There were four very good matinee races this afternoon at the park, in which several well known horsemen made entries. They were a fitting introductory to what will follow next week, when some of the best stock in the south will be put on. The result of today's races was as follows:

First race, 2:30 pace, mlle heats, best two in three. Entries, Frankie D., driven by Whitehead; Flying Prince, driven by Riley, Won by Frankie D. Time, 2:22.

Second race, 2:30 trotting, best two in three-mile heats. Entries, Adjutant, driven by Kimbail: Nancy, driven by Boliam. Won by Adjutant. Time, 2:32½.

Third race, mixed pace and trot, best two in three-mile heats, entries, Mussette, driven by McIntosh; Pattie D., driven by Offutt. Won by Pattie D. Time, 2:16½.

Fourth race, three-minute class, best two in three-mile heats, entries, Magulette, driven by Newhall; McEroy, driven by Miller; Goldstem, driven by Reeves. Only one heat was run, won by Goldstem. Time, 2:14½.

There will be more races this afternoon.

Wesleyan Girls Attend.

Wesleyan Girls Attend.

The young ladies of Wesleyan Female college, in charge of Professors Newman and Perry and several lady teachers from the college, took in the fair this morning about 100 strong. The bright faces of the fair young ladies lent additional attractiveness to the halls as they passed through, and themselves were a lovely exhibit to the hundreds of people who watched them as they passed along from one hall to another. The young ladies, for some reason, failed at first to get a place in the art gallery for their exhibits and had about given up hope of being able to get their fine work on exhibition. Today, however, Mr. Blackshear, one of Macon's leading photographers, learning of the misfortune of the young ladies, magnanimously offered his place to them and moved his exhibit to another and not so favorable position in the gallery. The work of the young ladies will be put in right away.

Saturday, Labor Day.

Saturday, Labor Day.

Tomorrow is labor day, and it promises to be the biggest day of the week. Major J. F. Hanson will deliver an address before the mechanics and laboring men of Macon at 10 o'clock in the morning in front of premium hall. Major Hanson is the working man's friend, and there is hardly a man in Macon stronger among that class of people. It will no doubt be a rare treat, and a large crowd will greet the distinguished speaker.

guished speaker.

Fair Notes.

Chief Jones, of the Macon fire department, is splendidly prepared for emergencies at the park. He has two engines and a corps of his best men nicely quartered near the premium hall, and divides his time between the city and the fair grounds.

Major Winters, the superintendent of the Macon Consolidated Street Rallway Company, is also one of the most enterprising of the fair directors. He has a magnificent schedule on all his lime connecting from the fair grounds with all points in the city.

A thing that is particularly creditable to the fair is the splendid order kept day and night on the grounds. Chief Butner has an ample force of police on the grounds, but so far there has been very little disturbance of the peace. In fact, the only arrests made are of negroes who try to slip in the grounds.

Julius Otto, in charge of G. Bern & Co.'s harness and saddlery exhibit, has a monkey that attracts, more attention than everything else in the main building. It is a toy monkey, but it runs the people wild, and is one of the cleverest toys of the day.

Mr. James Rooney, the park keeper, has large crowds of callers every day. He keeps the flowings in the park in splendid condition and his hothouses are the delight of all the ladies.

Among the prominent people visiting the fair are Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Campbell and Miss May Campbell; and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilcox, of McRae. They are registered at the Lanier house and will spend several days here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Taylor, of Cochran, are smong the visitors here this week.

Miss Louise DuBose, of Athens, is visiting Miss Mannie Wiley during the fair. The visitors at the fair and the public rally went wild over the "Dazzler" at Academy of Music last night. It de-es all that the press everywhere says serves all that the press ever, manager about it, and more.

Hon. E. L. Moore, of Valdosta, ex-senator from the sixth district, was in the city yesterday. He says the Dixle is the biggest fair he has ever seen in Macon. He spent some time shaking hands with old legislative friends whom he met here. Newsy Notes.

The bicycle riders of Maton, will ride in a fantastic parade Monday ight with Japanese lanterns and bunting galore. It will be the grandest display the bicyclists have ever made in Macon.

the grandest display the bicyclists have ever made in Macon.

Mr. S. A. Jaques, of the Jaques & Tinsley Company, and Mr. William Gallaher, general manager of the Macon Grocery Company, returned from Louisville, Ky., last night, where they attended the big meeting of western meat packers. They went as representative jobbers of Macon.

Mr. J. J. Farnsworth, of the Southern railway passenger department, is here looking after the travel over his road to the fair. He came down from Atlanta a day or two ago and will remain here for a week.

Mr. Adolph Gray, the engineer who was scalded to death in the Macon and Northern wreck yesterday, was burled this afternoon in the family burying ground in Ruthland district.

The order regarding the discharge of em-land district.

The order regarding the discharge of employes of the Southern railway who have their salaries ganisheed, will go into effect November 1st. A number of Macon employes had their salaries garnisheed, and have been given to fully understand what it means if such a thing occurs again.

PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY. Gang of Negroes in the Business of Passing Bogus Coin. Sandersville, Ga., October 26 .- (Special.)-Two men engaged in counterfeiting were arrested and jailed here tonight. They worked the town buying a nickle's worth at nearly all the stores and receiving 95 cents in change. One merchant detected the coun terfeit soon after making a sale, and the man who passed the dollar pretended he knew nothing about it being spurious; that the money had been paid him for picking cotton. The fact that only a nickel's worth was purchased at various stores is sufficient to refute this. R. M. Brown, one of the victims, found the men in the rear of his store after dark, preparing to leave town in their buggy. He pointed a double-barreled gun at them and commanded them to throw up their hands, which they quickly done. Marshal Smith was summoned and the men were locked up in jail. It is not known what their names are, or where they are from, but it is presumed they came from below Sandersville. Counterfeit dollars have been passed here several times recently, probably by the same gang.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE JACKSON Settles Himself in Thomasville to Spend the Winter. masville, Ga., October 26.-(Special.)-Justice Jackson, of the United States supreme court, arrived here today with his family and servants from Washington. He came in a private car of the Southern railway. Justice Jackson has been in bad health for some months, and after having visited other portions of the United States he comes to Thomasville to test the merits of our mild, salubrious climate. He has leased the elegant suburban home of Dr. Miller and will occupy it with his family until next spring. He expresses himself as much pleased with Thomasville. A residence belonging to Dr. A. P. Taylor, on Bartow street, was destroyed by fire last night. It was insured in the Fire in Americus.

Norwich Union for $2,100.

Americus, Ga., October 26.-(Special.)-Fire broke out this afternoon among the cotton at the shippers' compress in the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery rail-road yards, which resulted in the partial burning of 125 bales of cotton before the fire department got the fire under control.

The cotton was damaged about half its value. But for the efficient service of the fire department a very heavy loss would have resulted, as over a thousand bales were exposed, besides the compress and warehouse, and the warehouse and stock of the Americus Grocery Company adja-

Burglary in Milner.

Milner, Ga., Oceober 26.—(Special.)—Last night the store of Messrs. Woodall & Head, at this place, was burglarized. The work was clumsily done, giving unmistakable cuted by local talent. Cartridges, pocketknives and perfumery seemed to suit the fancy of the thieves best, as they passed more valuable goods by and devoted most more valuable goods by and devoted most of their attention to them. It is confidently believed that the burglars will be caught.

The Ginhouse Destroyed.

Or. Lucius Adamson Fast Winning His Way to the Top in New York.

Dr. Lucius C. Adamson, a gifted Georgia boy, who lived in Atlanta for several years, has recently been appointed to a position in New York which is highly prized among the members of his profession Dr. Adamson's career has been one of re-markable brilliancy, and no young man stands higher in the medical profession in

New York than he. A few years ago he came to Atlanta from his home a few miles away and entered the drug business with the firm of Pinson & Dozier. He studied medicine and immediately took high rank in his profession. He went to New York and entered Bellevue hospital to complete his course of study. He had not finished his course there before he was made an officer of the hospital and he soon rose to a posi-tion of exceptional prominence on the

About three years ago he was appointed to the very important position of assistant superintendent at the Ward Island insane asylum. He made a specialty of such cases and won such fame in that line that on last Wednesday he was elected as chief of the insane department at Bellevue hospital. He succeeded Dr. Stuart Douglas, a distinguished member of the New York medical profession. Dr. Adamson is quite a young man, and he has made his way to the front by force of energy and genius. He has many friends in Atlanta and throughout the state who will be glad to hear of his splendid success

The Southern Farmers May Originate a Strong Movement.

A MEETING IN MACON WEDNESDAY

The Farmers of the South Want Better Prices for Cotton-Three States Are to Act Soon.

It is extremely probable that in the next few weeks there will be organized a concerted movement among the farmers of the cotton states to protect themselves from the unprecedentedly low price that is now being paid for cotton.

The movement started in Georgia by Mr. Waddell has been followed by similar action of farmers in two adjoining states and there is a disposition among the planters of all the cotton raising state to do something by which their interests may be protected. Mr. J. O. Waddell came back from Macon yesterday, where he went to organize the movement for Georgia. He called a meeting to be held there this week and the object of it was to adopt protective measures. After coming together the move ment took such shape and it became evident that it would assume such large proportions it was decided to postpone the organization of the movement until next Wednesday.

On that day a meeting will be held in Macon, and it will be largely attended. Representative farmers of the state will be present and definite measures will be determined upon. Of course nothing can be definitely predicted concerning the course of action that the meeting will take, but that it will do something seems certain.

Mr. Waddell seems greatly encouraged. He said yesterday that he was pleased to see that adjoining states were taking similar action and it had begun to look as if the whole south would soon be organized into a movement to protect the cotton product. In Alabama Commissioner Hector Lane, of the agricultural bureau, has called meeting, and John T. Roddey, of South Carolina, has started a movement which he hopes will embrace the entire south. He has named no day for his meeting, but it is quite probable that the movements now germinating in the different cotton states will grow into a huge, concerted movement which will be a potent influence in bettering the prospects of cotton.

At present the movement is all in the air, and what plan the farmers will decide to adopt can only be conjectured. They confidently believe, howeve, that they do something to raise the price of cotton. A full and free discussion of the situation may develop the very plan they They confidently believe, however, that they cannot raise cotton at 5 cents a pound and that they are forced to do something in self-defense. The movement has spread in interest, and it is expected that the meeting interest, and it is expected that the meeting at Macon Wednesday will be largely attended. The Dixie fair will be a drawing card that will attract many.

FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.

Hon. Zach Martin, Member of Council, Is an Applicant for the Place.

Hon. Zach Martin, senior member of the general council from the fifth ward, is an applicant for railroad commissioner and is sanguinely anticipating the appointment, when it suits the pleasure of Governor Atinson to name that official.

Mr. Martin was an applicant for the posi-tion when Governor Northen appointed Hon. Gunby Jordon, of Columbus, and was greatly disappointed when the con sion did not come his way containing his name as the appointee. But Mr. Martin is well known as one of the most persistent workers in the city and was not the least phased by his failure to secure the apntment. On the contrary, he decided to push his claims for the place more ener getically than ever under the new admin istration, the Atkinson campaign being then on. He enlisted under the banner of Colonel Atkinson and fought hard for

Since the election of Colonel Atkinson Mr. Martin has been pushing his canvass for the position and yesterday was on the streets with a long petition, numerous ly signed. The petition was addressed to Governor Atkinson and asked for the ap-pointment of Mr. Martin to the commission. It recited his worth as a railroad man and his value as a citizen. The peti-tion which was in the hands of Mr. Martin was only one of many which were being circulated in his behalf. Than Mr. Mar-tin there is no better known railroad man in the south. For years he has been a conductor on the Atlanta and West Point road and is known by nearly every one between Atlanta and Montgomery. He is now serving a term in the general council and at one time he was spoken of in con-nection with the mayoralty of the city.

By its superb qualities Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder has become incomparably the household favorite.

able sale of your cures?" asked a reporter of Munyon's representative last evening. "It's very simple," he remarked. "Do you see that gentleman just leaving. He has ridden twenty miles since noon to obtain my Rheumatism cure for his wife, who has not had ten hours' sleep in two weeks. There is no advertisement strong enough to have brought him this distance, but a neighbor. The has suffered for years as talk. They get the former by our method of introduction. During the past ten days hundreds have seen friends and acquaintances, crippled for months, made well scain. Fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers have found loved ones restored to health after years of suffering. These are some of the reasons why Munyon's cures have had such an enormous sale since the free distribution ended. In less than four free distribution ended. In less than four weeks we expect to have 40,000 converts to this new method in treating disease. For with Munyon's Guide to Health and a line of his remedies in the house, a family will feel insured against most any ailment that flesh is heir to, and at a cost exceeding but little the price of one visit from their family physician.

We have astonished the public and protism during the past week, and will in-crease their confidence in us as the value of our other remedies becomes known.

Rheumatism Cure.

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism can be cured in from one to five days. It can be cured in from one to five days. It speedily cures shooting pains, sciatica, lumbago and all rheumatic pains in the back, hips and loins. It seldom fails to give relief after one or two doses, and almost invariably cures before one bottle has been used. Price 25 cents.

The Equitable Loan and Security Company Makes an Application

TO OBTAIN THE USE OF THE MAIL

They Want the Court to Compel Postmas-ter Fox to Forward Their Mail. The Full Story.

An application for a writ of mandamus was made to Judge Newman yesterday af-ternoon by the Equitable Loan and Security Company to compel Postmaster Fox to forward the mail of that company to its proper destination.

This is the latest development in the situation. It is the only step that was left for the company to take, and the issue is now squarely drawn and ready for a hearing before Judge Newman at the time desig-

It will be remembered that Postmaster Fox received an order from the assistant postmaster general several days ago direct ing him to refuse the privileges of the mail service to the Equitable Loan and Security Company on the ground that its plan of operation embodied the principles of a lot-

This was flatly denied by the officers of the campany, who include many of the leading business men and financiers of Atlanta, and, in behalf of its policy holders throughout the country, they decided to insist upon their chartered rights and to prosecute the matter until a thorough investigation could be obtained!

Filed Yesterday Afternoon Filed Yesterday Afternoon.

The application for the writ was filed by Colonel W. S. Thomson and Messrs. Palmer and Read yesterday afternoon.

It recited that the Equitable Loan and Security company was a chartered corporation existing under the laws of this state and then proceeded to narrate the story growing out of the recent developments already families. ready familiar to the public. A copy of the letter refused and also a prospectus of the company, a blank agreement and other papers, showing the character of the association, were annexed to the applica-

The following is a summary of the situation: On the 25th of October the secretary of the association, Mr. John S. Owens, mailed a letter to a party in Florida by the name of John Thompson, enclosing a printed circular and explaining the character of the association with a view to his employment as a negeral the desired the association. ment as an agent if he desired to avail himself of the opportunity. This letter was presented to Postmaster Fox, with the requisite number of stamps, and properly addressed. The postmaster, however, refused to forward the letter, as he declared, on account of the matter contained therein, which he said came under the prohibitory clause of the act relating to the suppression of the lottery.

The complainant was deeply aggrieved by the action of the postmaster and the business of the company was greatly demoralized on account of his refusal to allow the use of the mails. For this reason it was prayed that a writ of mandanus he alprayed that a writ of mandamus be al-lowed compelling the postmaster to for-ward the company's mail to its proper des-

The Returned Letter. A description of the returned letter may be of interest in this connection.

It is addressed to John Thompson, Zolfo DeSoto county, Florida, and begins by stating that the purpose of the letter is to in-terest him in the association and to offer him an agency. Then follows au outline of the plan on which the association was oper-

First, a payment of $4 as the entrance fee on each share of stock, and $1.25, payable on the 5th of each month for the period of one hundred and thirty months, after the expiration of which time the shareholder would be entitled to the full amount of his policy, as written on its face. $504.54. The company reserved the right to call any pay certificates prior to thele maturity, according to a certain mathematical table. All certificates, called for redemption prior to maturity, to be paid in the same ratio of profit that would be paid upon the same certificate at maturity. For example, if a certificate should be called for redemption six months after issuing, the holder, having paid in $11.50, would be entitled to $30.35, and so on. There is no chance or lottery involved, as every man, in the course of time, without ex-ception, is paid with interest on the amount of his investment.

Set for a Hearing. The application for a writ of mandamus was set for a hearing before Judge New-man on November 3d. Postmaster Fox will be required to show cause at that time why the writ should not be granted as prayed for in the application.

Munyon's Kidney Cure cures pain in the back, loins or groins, from kidney disease, droppy of the feet and limbs, frequent desire to pass water, dark colored and turbid urine, sediment in the urine and diabetes. Price 25 cents. WEATHER SYNOPSIS AND FORE CAST

> An examination of the weather map of last evening showed the distribution of at mospheric pressure to be almost exactly the reverse to that prevailing on the preceding evening. The entire country east of the Mississippi river was covered by an area of comparatively low barometric pressure, with its center near Augusta and Savannah while an area of high pressure extended over the region between the Mississippi river and the eastern slope of the Rockies, except in the extreme northwest, where a slight depression was noticed. Yesterday rain fell at Charlotte, N. C.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Augusta, Ga.; Lynchburg, Va., and New York city.
> In the northwest the weather was somewhat cooler than on Thursday.
>
> For Georgia: Generally fair, colder in northeast portion.

THE PEOPLE OF CHATTANOOGA HAD IT

Forn Down by the Police, and the Council of Atlanta Will Be Asked to Pass a Law Prohibiting Living Pictures.

Living pictures and pictures on the wall, where the outlines of the female form are shown have been tabooed by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Affanta. And all scenic work of that lik must be turned to the wall, as it were.

Just now the shows generally are making a big spread on the bill boards and some of the work is an excellent imitation of what might be called that peculiar class of art in which the artist, the great lover of nature most delights. Within the past few months, in fact, almost entirely since the present season opened, the walls, windows and other places where the bill poster gets in his work, have been adorned with pictures which have been of more than ordinary interest. To some they were of interest because they came very near presenting the observer's idea of true art, while to others they were attractive because they were suggestive of immoral thoughts.

Still there was another view of some of these pictures taken by some, and that view may be presented to the general council at the next regular meeting of that body and in presenting it there will be a strenuous demand for the council to pass a law prohibiting the exhibition of such pictures in windows, bill boards, and in other public places. So determined are those who are engineering the movement that they say that the pictures shall not be pasted on the boards or otherwise exhibited even if the courts of the state must be appealed to in the shape of an injunction.

Not only is that feeling prevalent in At-

Not only is that feeling prevalent in Atlanta, but it pervades quite a number of other cities in the south, just as it shot across the west a year or two ago.

Only a week or two ago it broke out in Chatteness.

Chattanooga, and so violent was the at-tack that the police department was in-structed to tear from the walls some of the fost select and costly paper the Hoyt's "A Black Sheep" hung. That attraction, like many other companies now on the road, has invested a snug fortune this year in posters, bills, pictures and other advertis-ing devices. Some of the work is of the finest kind in the way of attractive advertising, and it is left wholly with the ide of the observer as to whether it is a meri torious piece of work or immoral. Either view of it, however, does not turn the eyes of the passer-by from the bill boards, but upon those same boards the eye rests until the admirer or the condemer is satisfied.

The "A Black Sheep" shows one piece of work of which every member of the company, from the owner, who is coining money out of the production, to the grip carrier for the property man, is very proud. With them it is a hundred-to-one shot that the picture is not in the least immoral, and that it is considered a magnificient place of that it is considered a magnificient piece of high art. The picture carries for its title "The Queen of Burlesque," and presents to the view the figure of a woman in tights. The picture has for its background a pe-culiar shade of red, while the figure of the woman is made of the most exquisite shade of blue. Standing with her weight upon one foot, the other being at rest, the ball of the foot only touches the floor. The woman's face is anything but pretty, leans slightly to one side and glances to the floor. Over her shoulders is a handsome wrap with which she is in the act of adjusting, both of her hands being above her shoulders grasping the mantle. A delicate, slender waist tapers up to a pair of draoping, indifferent shoulders while it rests upon hips, which are out of all proportion with the rest of the body. Tha face, not pretty, is made less attractive by the grin which shows a full set of large teeth and line so red that the evidence of teeth, and lips so red that the evidence of teeth, and lips so red that the evidence of paint is apparent.

It is this picture which so wrought up the people of Chattanooga that the members of the police department were instructed to pull it down wherever it might be torities made the manager of the show du-bious, and when he came to Atlanta the manager was a little chary about putting out that grade of paper. But Dooley, the bill poster, convinced the manager that it would go in Atlanta and out it went. And in Atlanta and out it went.

And in Atlanta it made a howl, and now the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has decided that it should not be tolerated and that they should be destroyed, and will ask the council to prohibit the further exhibition of pictures of that ilk. pictures of that ilk.

While working on that problem, the question of living pictures came up, and the union decided to ask the general council at the same time to prohibit the presentation of living pictures in any of the theaters of Atlanta.

or Atlanta.

Just what the council will do in the matter remains to be seen. If an ordinance of that kind is passed it will more than likely call for the appointment of an expert on wall pictures whose duty will be to inspect the pictures and decide whether they are within the meaning and letter of the law contemplated.

That would make a snap for some one, but that some one would have his life made miserable before his first tour of inspection would be completed so materially do people differ on the question of the show pictures.

In taking down the pictures in Chattanooga the newspapers of that city took a hand in the matter and the company was given more free advertising than it could have possibly bought for a carload of dollars. So full and complete was the question discussed that the city of Chattanoga decided to have the "A Black Sheep" with them again, and the company will make one night there, next Friday night, one week from to night. night. So anxious are the people, too, to judge for themselves that every seat in the house has already been sold, and the speculator is now getting in his work for a show, which has been there once within the last ten days, and will go back again one week from tonight. One of the leaders in the movement in Atlanta yesterday remark-

"Those pictures do nothing but corrup and prevert the minds of the young people who pass along the streets, and the sooner we have a law prohibiting the exhibiting of them the better it will be for us all. One minister in Atlanta will preach against the pictures next Sunday, and several more will be requested to do the same thing. will be requested to do the same thing. We are satisfied that it is immoral, and we are going to push the movement against them."

"But how will you decide what should be shown on the bill boards and what should not be?" was asked.

not be?" was asked.
"Our good, common sense and the good, common sense of the members of the police department will do that. If there gets to be much doubt about it, we can stop the exhibition of all show pictures."
"That would kill Mr. Dooley's business as a bill poster," was suggested.
"Better kill Mr. Dooley's business than to kill the character and morals of the children of the city."
